Book Revew

Book review from
St. Francis Public Library

The Revelation
By Beverly Lewis

The Abram's Daughters saga, begun in The Covenant, reaches its soaring conclusion in The Revelation. Three generations of Ebersols have enjoyed the love of a close-knit family, while also enduring heartache in Lancaster County, Pa. Here, at last, the choices they've made, and the secrets they've carefully guarded, are about to be revealed...for better or for worse.

Six endless days have come and gone since that wonderful-good crimson-and-gold-speckled day when Jonas returned to Lancaster County to declare his fondest affection for me. Yet I've had no word since, not even following his important meeting with the bishop. And as each day passes, I am mindful not to given into fretting, losing myself in endless worry.

Honestly, though, there are times when I am nearly giddy with anticipation, knowing Jonas is only 30 minutes away. What I thought had died in me has sprung to vibrant life. Once again I carry within my heart the hope of one day being reunited with my darling beau, if God should see fit.

Secretly, though, I fear something will yet keep us apart. Ever since the advent of winter with its dearth of light, I have been aware of a sense of foreboding.

I Am A
Country
Newspaper ...

I am a country newspaper.

I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends; I speak to the home in the evening of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of the winter's lamp.

I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the days and weeks that go to make up life.

I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greatness or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of man's existence.

I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.

I am the lives of my readers.

I am the country newspaper.
