

Park holds Christmas in July

Who'd of thought — Christmas in July.

Well, Prairie Dog Park thought it and made it happen with its first ever Prairie Dog Christmas.

The park stole the idea from another state park, said Park Ranger Steve Mathes. He said they thought it would be something fun to do during a slow time and he hopes it will become an annual event, getting larger every year.

The idea was to have campers staying at the park put up Christmas decorations. The campsite that was decorated the best wins.

This year, the park had eight sign up.

Vickie and Charlie Taylor, Oberlin, were determined to have the best site. They won a big cooler, two folding lounge chairs, and two tickets to the Norton Theatre.

In second place was J.D. Sanderson, Norton. He took home a cooler, a folding aluminum camp table and two tickets to the Norton Theatre for his decorating efforts.

Roger and Connie O'Hare, Goodland, took third place, winning a small cooler, two folding chairs and two tickets to the Norton Theatre.

Fourth place was taken by Bob and Sandy Husted, Norton. They won a small cooler and one folding chair.

This year's judges were Karla Reed and Deena Wente.
