

WILSONVILLE

By VELMA HOLTZE and LAURIE LAWS

Wendee Park, a college student at Seward, spent the weekend with her family, Barb and Tim Baca and Rilee. Grandson Kade of Cambridge was also a guest in the Baca home.

Oct. 3 weekend guest at the Dale Stanley home were Troy Stanley, Michelle and baby Adeline of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Meissner and family of McCook and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ritter of Selden. On Sunday afternoon Troy, Michelle, baby Adeline, Ellen and Kalee Meissner and Beth Stanley visited in the Adeline Ballou home. This was a special occasion for Adeline, as baby Adeline was named for her.

Janene Holtze, a student at Beatrice, also spent the weekend at home. She accompanied her roommate, Samantha Luther, of Orleans and was met by her parents, Jim and Becky Holtze.

Some Wilsonville people ate dinner Sunday at the benefit dinner for the daughter of the Steve and LaDonna Harrison who is to have a kidney transplant. Both Steve and LaDonna were former teachers in the Wilsonville schools.

Church Dinner

The United Methodist Church held their first monthly dinner this fall on Sunday following services. Merlin and Mary Wilmot were acting hosts. Carol Gaunt of McCook was an out-of-town guest.

After eating dinner there Velma and Margene Holtze drove to Oberlin to attend the open house for the retirement and farewell for Rev. Nolan and Barbara Pierce. The Holtzes knew the Pierces when they served the Minden Christian Church a number of years ago. They will be moving to Cozad where their youngest son lives.

Library News

The library board met Wednesday, Oct. 6 with only one member absent. Secretary Kristi Witte and Treasurer Connie Wilson both gave their reports. Discussion concerning a Halloween party was held but since the gym is unavailable at this time, it was decided to have a soup and sandwich supper for a fund-raiser at a later date. Final plans for this will be made at a board meeting later this month.

The librarian reported on the evening with poet, Tom Glasco, and was well pleased with attendance and felt it was a successful evening. Meeting was adjourned.

Baptist-Christian Women

Thursday, Oct. 7 was White Cross Day for the Baptist-Christian Women. White Cross Chairman, Alice Kasson, led the members in a very inspiring program in the form of a skit and closed with a dedication prayer. President Avis Wolfe conducted the business meeting. Members voted to send a monetary donation to assist with the youth project at the Christian Church State Convention. A thank you and a monetary gift were given from the family of Betty Murphy.

Becky Holtze gave a very thoughtful worship service using material from the book, "Redeeming Halloween". Immediately following the lesson and worship the women went to work packing the boxes of hundreds of cut quilt blocks, filling the school bags, rolling bandages and making the display in the sanctuary of the White Cross items as well as the "Tree of Sharing" items which all the church gives to during the month of October.

Hostess Margalee Ruf served the 9 a.m. refreshments. Members will be packing goodie boxes for the college students and the servicemen as well as plates for several who are alone or homebound.

Pat Yost's aunts, Alice Yoho and Marcella Burton from Fair Oaks, Calif., visited in Wilsonville a couple of days. One evening Pat's sister and Jerry Harris and family, Amber Rae and son James who live north of McCook hosted a barbecue at their home. Other guests besides those named were Pat's father, Dale McNutt, McCook, her sisters, Anita Lytle, McCook and Lori Jaamine and Zackery from Curtis.

Baby Boy

Stacy and Denise Park of North Platte are the parents of a son, Cody James. He was born on Sept. 26. He weighed 5 pounds 15 3/4 ounces and was 19 1/2 inches long. Grandparents are Jim and Carolyn Park, Dennis and Margaret Messersmith of Cambridge and Mary and Eldon Wiemers of Hershey, Neb.

Monday mornings usually finds from three to ten women gathering at the Library doing some kind of handiwork. Right now several of the women are busy quilting on a star quilt, which they plan to sell as a fundraiser. Wednesday at noon, eight of these women enjoyed going to Cambridge to Shirley K's for a noon meal.

I Help Others Tour The Stear's Home

June Palmer, hostess for the I.H.O. Club on Wednesday, Oct. 13, made arrangements for the afternoon. This included a visit to the home of Bob and Joyce Stear east of Cambridge. Six members and one guest, Marie Smith of Omaha enjoyed a tour of the home and hearing how they had remodeled it as well as enjoying seeing several special features in the home and seeing several antiques. Bob shared much of the history of this farm, which has some natural springs. The Stear's have channeled those into a couple of man-made ponds, which add beauty to the spacious yard. Strutting around near the beautiful flowers were seven peacocks. Following a most enjoyable time there, June treated everyone including Mrs. Stear at Shirley K's and also Laurie Laws who joined the women there after she got off work.

YOUTH SPEAK AT WOMAN'S CLUB Monday, Oct. 11, Britany Brown and Katie Ballou were guests of the Wilsonville Woman's Club at the Baptist-Christian Church. Britany shared about her trip this past summer to the Bahamas with several students from Cambridge and McCook and two science teachers. She had many kinds of shells and numerous other things to show. Katie spoke about her trip to Girl's State in June. She shared about her running for office, told about some of the speakers they heard and several other interesting things about the week. Both girls shared pictures with the women. The girls presentations were enjoyed by all. Katie's mother, Colleen Ballou and sister, Brooke and Brittany's mother, Melody Brown, were also guests. Vice President, Pat Yost presided at the business meeting. Members answered roll call with a favorite pumpkin recipe. Nancy Knutson reported on she and Pat going to the Cambridge Elementary School to hand out reading certificates and little gifts to one in each class who has excelled in reading. This is a project the women will be doing each month. Nadeane Haag led the group in some Halloween songs. Devotions were given by Nancy Knutson who read some of the poetry from one of the books written by Tom Glasgow. Hostesses for the evening were Nadeane and Pat who had the room decorated for autumn and Halloween. They served the traditional pumpkin pie and each guest went home with a special Halloween kitchen towel as a favor.

Bridal shower

A bridal shower was held at the home of Ella Wilson Sept. 26 for Bridget Bell. Hostesses were Laurie Jurey, Janelle Jurey, Lindsey Jurey and Amy Hanna. Bridget is the fiancé of Travis Cobb, son of David and Deb Cobb of Cambridge. Special guests were Bridget's mother, grandmothers, aunt and future sister-in-law, all of Fairbury.

Wedding

Travis Cobb and Bridgett Bell were married Oct 16. Travis is employed as a drug representative for the State of Nebraska. Bridgett is employed at the eye clinic for laser surgery. The couple will live in Kearney.
