A Lulu Page Memorial Fund has been established. Contributions may be sent in care of Enfield Funeral Home, 215 W. Main, Norton, Kan. 67654.

Art students to show work at musuem

Art students from area schools will be showing off their artistic talents in the upcoming high school art exhibit at the Hansen Museum gallery in Logan. The exhibit will run from March 17 through April 10.

This exhibition will consist of a variety of art forms, including oil, water color, pen and ink, scratchboard, wood, weaving, ceramic and clay, wire sculpture, and many other creative mediums. Each student takes an individual approach to the art form they are producing, which allows for a tremendous array of variety and personality in the exhibit as a whole. Whatever the art form, each piece speaks for itself in representing the wondrous world of art.

This annual exhibition speaks highly for our area high school students and the instructors who sharpen skills and expand the minds of our youth. Participating in this year's exhibit are the works of Art Instructors Victoria Robison, Norton; Lee Smith, Palco; Jerry Blank, Smith Center; Rene' Thompson, Logan; Julie Peterson-Shea, Phillipsburg; David Chalfant, Hill City; Rona Schultz, Grainfield, and Culley Jackson, Plainville.

The preview for this exhibit is open to the public and will be held on Tuesday evening, March 22 at the Hansen Museum gallery and community room. Lee Smith, the Palco art instructor, will be the guest speaker for the evening. Refreshments will be served so plan to attend.

Museum hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-4 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-5 p.m.; and holidays from 1-5 p.m.

For more information about this and other exhibits, contact Lee at 785-689-4846 or check out our web at www.hansenmuseum.org.

Norton group learns about assistance program

Members of the Beta Alpha Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met March 7 at the home of Joyce Lofgreen with co-hostesses Sally Clydesdale and Mary Graber.

They heard about Norton CARES from Romona Pabian and Dolores Fitzmaurice, who told about the assistance provided by volunteers for residents who have special needs.

Seventeen volunteers now drive people to doctor appointments, help shop for groceries for those who can no longer do this for themselves, or visit with those who are alone.

Norton CARES began in 1997 at the urging of Enid Roe, who saw a need for services in our community. A board of directors coordinate the schedules and match volunteers to individuals or families in need. To date this year, volunteers have driven 1,500 miles to take people to appointments. The funding is from donations at area churches and fund-raising activities. There is always a need for more volunteers and donations to continue the program.

Arrangements for help can be made at the Senior Citizens Center.

The next meeting is at 4:30 p.m. on April 4 at the home of Nan Smith.

Junior KAYS go to conference

Twenty-five members of the Norton Junior High KAY Club attended a KAY Unit Conference on Feb. 16 in Alma that focused on leadership at the local level.
