

Norcatur

Veterans from many branches of the U. S. armed services formed the honor guard for Memorial Day ceremonies in Norcatur on Sunday.

— Photo by Carolyn Plotts

Veterans, citizens honor those who have died

Lyle

Rebecca Helm (above) played "Taps" on a bugle donated to the Lebanon, Neb., American Legion post by her grandmother in honor of her grandfather, a World War II veteran, during ceremonies in Lyle. Veteran Bill Belt (left) saluted as the American flag was raised during ceremonies at the Norton Cemetery on Monday.

— Photos by Carolyn Plotts and Cynthia Haynes

Norton

Almena

Crosses decorated with wreaths (above) reminded those visiting Memorial Day observances in Almena on Monday of those who died for their country. In the Norton Cemetery stands a reminder of other wars. Wm. A. Brown has neither birth nor death date on his marker by a star nearby is inscribed G.A.R. to show that he was a Civil War veteran, who served in the Grand Army of the Republic. — Photos by Susie Marble and Cynthia Haynes

