Eleven fans pick all game winners

By DICK BOYD

Eleven football fans were correct on all 12 winners in last week's Pigskin Pick-Em contest but Barbara Springer, Hoisington, came closest to the actual score of the tiebreaker game and won the $15 scrip first prize.

Kensington won the tiebreaker game by a 62-20 score over Northern Valley and Springer picked it 62-16 or four points off.

Travis Vallin, Watkins, Colo., also had all games correct and chose Kensington by 62-28, or eight points off, and will receive the $10 scrip second prize.

The third prize winner of $5 in scrip money was Emily Vallin, Long Island. She got all games correct and chose Kensington by 50-22 or 14 points off.

Other fans who were correct on all 12 winners and points off on the tiebreaker game were: Ken Tharman, Long Island, 22; Aaron McDowell, Hill City, 22; Craig Foley, Norton, 24; and Bob Covington, Alma, 39.

Beautiful weather, arts and crafts fair draw crowd to Logan

It was a beautiful day Saturday for the annual Logan Arts and Crafts Fair held on the Hansen Museum grounds.

Although the number of crafters was down the fair seemed to run smoothly and sales were good, said Museum Director Lee Favre.

"I really think the crafters did well even though the numbers were down," she said. "The food vendors didn't sell as much this year, but everybody else did extremely well."

Ms. Favre said a survey was taken of the crafters and all but seven reported good sales.

People also seemed to really enjoy both entertainers — Mark Nebel and Jim Pemberton, she said.

Winners of the prize drawings were: $25 — Mary Sparks, Joyce Eckhart and Dorothy Zillinger, Logan, and Gloria and Duane Harris, Stockton; $50 — Max and Donna Lowry, Irene Koester and Staci Hofaker, Logan, and Cy Moyer, Phillipsburg; and $100 — Sonya Montgomery, Alma, and Leland Rundle, Logan.

Twelve new "Artists of the Month" were also selected by judge Roger Hrabe, the Rooks County Economic Development director.

The new artists are Gordon Mai, Wilson, January, photographs; Tom Peterson, Colby, February, fret work; Tom and Mary Ewing, Oberlin, March, leather crafts; Tina Elias, Colby, April, candles; Raymond Juhl, Miller, Neb., May; Bruce Bitter, Hoisington, June; Twila Large, Ellis, July; Cynthia Garrison, Atwood, August, woven baskets; Joyce Underwood, Everest, September, stained glass; Gloria Harris, Stockton, October, quilted items and Barbie clothes; Steve Germes, Medicine Lodge, November, shadow boxes; and Lori Struik, Agra, December, wreaths and floral arrangements.

The two alternates are Janet Gottstein and Michael Lemon.

This month's exhibit "Whispers From the Walls" by artist Whitfield Lovell is being taken down to make way for a new exhibit, "Inspirations: The Art of Lester Raymer", which will open Friday. "The fair has always been a great day for the entire family and this year was no exception," said Ms. Favre. "Volunteers are responsible for the success of the day. Thank you so much to the many who helped with this year's event."

Volunteers were Donna Lowry, Elda Hamit, Deb Berg, Doris States, Rachel Rundle, Orvina Tidball, Lou Plummer, Glenda McElroy, Sherry Buss, Brenda Johnson, Karen Clements, Kelsey Noel, Lisa Archer, Donna Brobst, Barb Brumbaugh, Mandy Goble, Art Henrickson, Theresa Shellito, Janene Schneider, Charlotte Broyles, Isabell Krouse, Kathy Noel, Wilma Broyles, Polly Bales, Vada McDonald, Lucille Hofaker, Irene Koester, Verlaine Schooler, Margaret Morris, and Don and Beth Van Roekel.
