HANSEN MUSEUM

By LEE FAVRE, Director

On the last day of October, Janice Kenney arrived to pick up her woodcrafts from the October "Artist of the Month" display. Virgil Deges, Damar, set up his artwork on Nov. 1. Stop by to check out Virgil's work.

It is the season for leaves to fall and they have been doing just that around the plaza grounds. The apples that remain on the tree have been bit by the frost bug and soon will fall as well.

Inside the gallery, you will find a wonderful variety of the late Lester Raymer's work. He was a multi-faceted artist and this exhibit represents many of his artistic talents. One of the most impressive items is the "Noah's Ark" with a multitude of animals, two by two, all hand carved and painted to perfection. This exhibit shows through Nov. 13 and is worth the visit.

The first through fifth grades visited the Museum on Halloween in full costume. What a treat!
