

WILSONVILLE

By VELMA HOLTZE and LAURIE LAWS

Dan and Virginia Hoke, a former Wilsonville school superintendent, writes to say they have both retired and live at Tetonia, Idaho, near the Grand Tetons. They enjoy visits from their children, Mary, Danny and Brian and their families who come to ski and snowmobile.

News comes from another school superintendent. Dave and Linda Heirshfeldt reside on a farm near Waco, Neb. She is teaching in Lincoln while Mr. Heirshfeldt spends his days irrigating and other farm jobs. Their children, Ann, Jeannie and family and Ken and his family all live in Lincoln, while their youngest son, Ben and his family live in Omaha.

Ron and Joan Wolfe are building a new home in Freeport, Ill., about 90 miles from Chicago, where their son, Tom, lives.

A former Methodist minister, Don and Carol Morton, live in Parachute, Colo. They report they are doing lots of traveling in their retirement. They have been to Albuquerque, New Mexico, Moab, Utah, the Great Lakes, Niagara Falls, Canada, Canon City, Colo., and other points in Colorado. They are already planning a trip to Alaska later this year.

Hershall Pahl and wife, Bonnie, live at Ava, Mo. They continue to have health problems. Mr. Pahl said lots of his World War II buddies are dying.

Mr. Pahl's sister, Phyllis (Pahl) Mitchell, Seattle, Wash., sends hand-painted Christmas cards each year. This year's card featured the view of the mountain landscape she sees from her deck. She shares her home with her son, Bob and his wife.

A note from Naomi Gil Boyd and her husband at Clearmore, Okla., said that at age 83, she is still conducting her exercise class. (She didn't say, but this probably still includes line dancing.)

From Santa Fe, N.M., Anne Marie Shaw writes that after two years of suffering with an irregular heart beat, it finally seems to be corrected. She enjoys Santa Fe, partly because it has music events and theatre, as well as her church.

One of her responsibilities in her church is to train the scripture readers as well as reading scripture for many of the special services. Those who remember her, know that this was her field and she taught in the eastern United States for many years.

The Library Board met Jan. 4 with librarian Connie Holliday and board members Pat Yost, Marlene Witte, Connie Wilson and the new member, Janet Trosper. Nancy Knutson was the only member absent. Ms. Trosper is replacing Kristi Witte. The yearly report showed that 750 books were checked out in 2005 and donations amounted to $160. During the winter, the library is open on Monday from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.; and Wednesday, from 2 to 4 p.m. If anyone needs a book or other library service outside these hours, they should call the librarian or a board member. The board voted to purchase two space heaters for the library.

Jan. 5, the Baptist-Christian Women met. Hostess Virginia Rice began the meeting with a few words explaining her centerpiece, using words from the song "Angels Among Us". President Margalee Ruf conducted the meeting. It was decided to ship the rest of the rolled bandages and quilt blocks. White Cross chairman, Alice Kasson, will do that. The women agreed to change February's project after Velma Holtze explained some of the needs of The Haven in Norton. This is a hospitality center serving the visiting families of inmates at Norton Correctional Facility. The center had been closed for two years, but was re-opened just before Christmas.

Becky Holtze was the program leader sharing how people need to slow down and make time for God and their families. She closed with "A Mother's Prayer For The New Year".

Mrs. Rice served refreshments to 10 members and one guest. The women brought used greeting cards to be given to a preschool and socks and undies for the January "Us Girls" project.

Velma Holtze's family gathered recently at the Hampton Inn in North Platte, Neb. Mrs. Holtze and her daughter, Margene Holtze, shared the planning responsibilities. Attending were: Jim, Becky and Janene Holtze, Brian and Lyndsey Holtze, Kenneth and Carla Holtze, Wilsonville; Brad and Renee Holtze and boys, Kraton Banzhaf, Justin and Jolene Miller and family, Cambridge; Russ and Kendra Hoagland and boys, Hastings; Ivalene Simmons, Oshkosh; Russell and Michelle Simmons and daughter, Hays; Richard and Heather Simmons and family, North Platte; and Chris and Caroline Erickson and son, Holdrege. LaVern and Rhonda Banzhaf and Kayla joined the family after Kayla played in the Cambridge basketball tournament. The only member of the family who was absent was the youngest grandson, James Simmons, who was in Texas. Several families were Sunday dinner guests in the Richard Simmons, Newton, Texas.

Word has been received of the death of Iran Johnson Albright, 87, on Dec. 14.

Mrs. Johnson was born March 16, 1918, to Ralph and Mia (Brown) Johnson. She grew up on the family farm west of Wilsonville. Most people refer to the farm as the Holtze farm where Jim and Becky Holtze now live. She graduated from Wilsonville high school in 1936, as the class valedictorian. She taught in rural schools until she furthered her education and began teaching at Hazard and Amherst.

She married Carl Albright on Aug. 25, 1943, and they made their home on a farm west of Amherst until 1957, when they moved into Amherst. She later worked in food services at Kearney College until 1981, when she retired.

She is survived by her husband, her son, Paul and his wife of Weston, Wis.; her five daughters, Mary Morgan and husband and Colleen of Overland Park; Margaret Beckwith and her husband, Fremont, Neb.; Virginia Unick and husband, Kearney and Emily Speht and husband of Valencia, Calif.

She was an active member of the Lutheran Church and the various organizations as well as Stonecroft Bible Studies.

She was preceded in death by her parents and her two brothers, Dwight and Ralph, Jr.

Funeral services were held Dec. 16 at Trinity Church in Amherst. Burial was in the Stanley Cemetery at Amherst.

Six, I Help Others members drove to Cambridge Dec. 14 to spend the afternoon with eight of the residents at the Assisted Living home. Vice president, Carla Holtze emceed the afternoon as she had each one introduce and tell something about themselves.
