

holds annual banquet

The Norton FFA's annual banquet on April 22 in the junior high gym featured a great meal and honors and was attended by large crowd.

Chapter President Austin Brooks called the gymnasium to order followed by Wesley Georgeson giving the invocation. A meal was served by the Northern Valley FFA Chapter lead by Advisor Doug Zillinger.

After the meal Joyce Brooks gave the parents response in which she thanked Garrett Beydler for the great job he does.

The chapter officers announced the appreciation awards to the parents, alumni and other volunteers that have helped throughout this year. The chapter officers were Austin Brooks, president; Chelle Donovan, vice president; Jessica Cook, secretary; Wesley Georgeson, treasurer; Brian Juenemann, reporter; Pat Burton, sentinel; and Sara Campbell, historian.

Brian Keiswetter gave a savings bond to Josh VanSki for being the top fruit sales person this year. Kara Miller handed out to the seniors the Farm Bureau awards for their work and achievements.

Mr. Beydler introduced the proficiency award winners. They are:

- Equine Production — Danielle Cliff;
 - Beef Production — Austin Brooks;
 - Placement in Beef Production — Scott Marx;
 - Diversified Livestock — Jessica Gilgenbach;
 - Lawn and Garden — Josh VanSki;
 - Diversified Ag Production — Austin Brooks;
 - Meat Goat Production — Jessica Gilgenbach; and
 - Sheep Production — Jessica Gilgenbach.
- Other awards given were:

The Chapter officers inducted Jeremy Krehbel as the honorary member for his efforts in the support of the Norton FFA Chapter. Mr. Krehbel assisted in many activities for the chapter including donating a semi to transport donations to Louisiana for the Hurricane Katrina Relief effort.

Keynote Speaker Avery Land, State FFA treasurer, presented a motivational speech on "Giving Credit Where Credit is Due."

Chelle Donovan summed up the years activities with a Slide presentation.

New FFA Chapter officers were sworn in. They are Wesley Georgeson, president; Brian Juenemann, vice president; Pat Burton, secretary; Sara Campbell, treasurer; Kayla Scheetz, reporter; Hannah Fulton, sentinel; and Tim Becker, historian.

The new officers closed the banquet with the closing ceremonies and led the assembly in the Pledge of Allegiance.

'Sweet Dreams' comin' to Norton

If your heart skips a beat when you hear a recording of Patsy Cline's "Sweet Dreams", you won't want to miss seeing and hearing "Patsy and Friends" in concert.

The Norton Arts Council, Inc., is sponsoring the stage show featuring Anent Cook as the legendary Patsy Cline. Her friend, Louise, who provides fictional narration, is played by Peg Samson. Back singers and band members are Mary Baker and Shawn Evens.

Arts Council president, Carol Erhlenbusch encourages everyone to come early.

"The doors open at 6 p.m. and the show starts at 7," she said.

Arts Council members are admitted with membership; adults, $10; reciprocity, $5; age 12 through high school $1; and children under 12, free.

Quilters share their 'love' with others

By CAROLYN PLOTTS

Members of Heritage Quilt Club don't just "like" quilting and everything connected with it — they "love" it. And, they enjoy sharing their work with others.

In fact, "Sharing the Love of Quilting" was the theme for this year's Quilter's Auction held Sunday at the Norton County 4-H building.

Auctioneer Don McMullen sold 45 quilted items to more than 80 guests who came to admire and purchase the handiwork of club members.

A wide selection of items were made specially for the auction. Baby quilts were popular along with wall hangings, table runners, pillow cases and several twin and full-size quilts. Unusual quilted pieces were a sewing tote bag and a purse.

Jerris McMullen and Pam Cuthbertson co-chaired the event. President Regina Stark gave the opening remarks and introduced the auctioneer.

Sandy Preuss organized the dessert table serving guests key lime pie, angel food cake with lemon sauce and strawberry-pretzel dessert.

Door prizes from area quilt shops were awarded throughout the afternoon. Chairing the prize committee were Connie Miller, Jamie Dreher and Jackie Rutherford.

Proceeds from the sale of the quilted items will go towards the club's service projects.

One of the service projects is making baby quilts for newborns at Norton County Hospital. Some of the quilts purchased at the auction have already been donated to the hospital.
