

"Queen of the Hop" had big hair for the costume parade at Almena Grade School Tuesday.

A magician pulled a rabbit (stuffed) out of his top hat.

Teachers escorted costumed students through downtown Almena Tuesday afternoon before class parties. Merchants greeted the students with treats.

Almena second grader, Kylie Kinderknecht, was thrilled with the contents of her "goodie bag" during her class Halloween party.

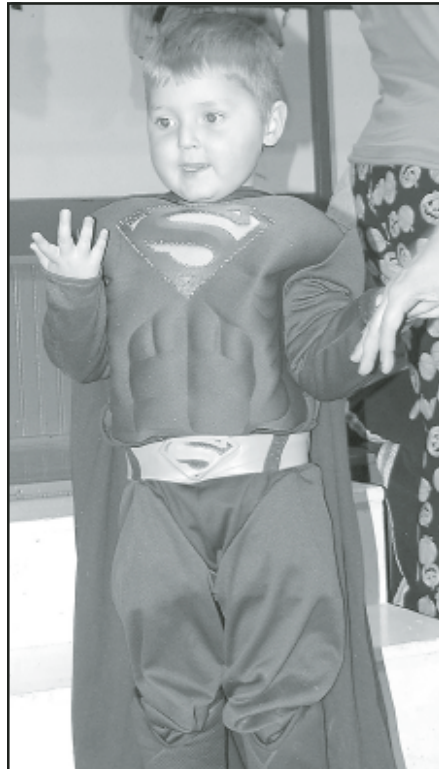

A dragon ran to catch up with his classmates on their trek to downtown Almena during the grade school's costume parade on Halloween.

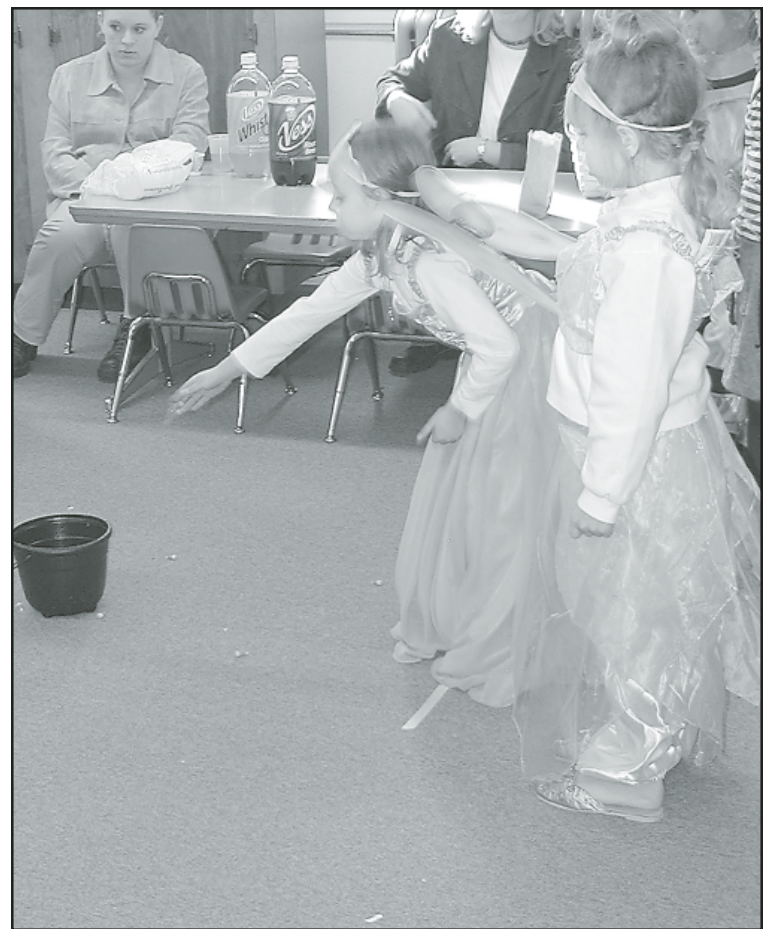

A little trick 'o' treatin' was done while on the march through the parade.

This Almena second grader was all eyes when he bit into a pumpkin cupcake during his class party.

This little Superman was too young for school, but enjoyed the costume parade, anyway.

A fairy and a little harem girls took their turn throwing candy corn into a can during their class party at Almena Grade School.