"Sisters are angels who lift our feet when our own wings have trouble remembering how to fly." -Author Unknown

Angela,

I simply wanted to let you know how much I love you, lil' sis. You are one of my best friends and I hope that you know that. Even though we may not always get along all the time, you are still the only sister I'll ever have and the love I have for you in my heart cannot be measured. I hope that you smile when you read this because I smile everytime I think about the wonderful friendship that we share.

Your Big Sister, Lisa Marie

Wherever you may go . . . There's a Mom who will always love you for who you are. You may stumble and fall as we all do at times . . . But I'll always be there for you, though near or far.

And the sparks from your eyes...
That send light through the universe...
For your sunshine that warmed my heart...*

There are special angels, that heaven sends; We cherish their hearts, and call them our "friends".

Amber and Lindsay,

It's incredibly hard living so far away from you both! Amber, I miss getting together to have our little "girl talks" and things just aren't the same now that we can't go to Noodles & Company every single night for dinner! Lindsay, you have been here for me through everything. We've shared so many laughs (and a few tears) and we've always been able to rely on each other no matter what. I am so thankful that you both are in my life and I hope that our friendship only gets stronger as the years go by.

— Love, Lisa

To Mom and Greg,
