Another 2" to 4" fell across the County yesterday putting yearly totals close to 40". It will be cold today and tomorrow with a nice warm-up expected over the weekend and for most of next week. Could get another dusting of snow tomorrow, past that the next 7 to 10 days will be dry. Next week high temperatures forecasted in the 50's should aid in melting a bunch of snow and be nice for those ranchers who are calving.
