

Council meets new police chief

(Continued from Page 1) departments in the area. Mr. Wolf said he was also a life-long resident of Norton, with the exception of a few months, and was looking forward to the challenge his new position offered.

- Heard that Councilman Ron Briery received a request for a stop sign in the alley by the First Security Bank and Trust drive-thru. City Attorney Karen Griffiths said she would look into what needed to be done legally to put a stop sign there.
- Asked if there were any requirements regarding the rendering truck, or "dead cow" truck, as it passes through town. He said there have been several occasions where Chief Annon will review the positives and negatives of doing this.

- Agreed to write a letter in support of the Watershed Restoration and Protection Strategy's (WRAPS) plan for the Prairie Dog Creek and Sebelius Lake Watershed as well as the Lower Prairie Dog Creek Watershed project.
