Candy money goes for good causes

$600.80 to divide. Director of DSNWK Sarah Durham said the money would be used for medical needs at the homes for walkers, wheelchairs, humidifier and special dietary foods needs. The school district will use the funds to provide supplemental educational materials.

Crop, livestock programs being offered

A series of meetings designed to help Kansas and Colorado crop and livestock producers learn about Adjusted Gross Revenue-Lite (AGR-Lite) and other risk management programs is planned for several locations in the two states.

The nine meetings are sponsored by Kansas State University's Department of Agricultural Economics and K-State Research and Extension; Colorado State University; the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Risk Management Agency; and Farm Credit Associations of Kansas.

Topics to be covered at each meeting include: Update from the USDA Risk Management Agency; Introduction to AGR-Lite; What is covered under AGR-Lite?; How is coverage established and how are claims calculated?; and Issues with AGR-Lite.

Each meeting will also include examples and time for questions and discussion.

The dates, locations and contact information for each location are:

• Jan. 21 — Wichita, Farm Credit of Central Kansas office,

7940 W. Kellogg Dr. Ed Frey, (316) 721-1100;

• Jan. 23 — Garden City, Clarion Inn, 1911 E. Kansas Ave., Holly Pruitt, (620) 275-4281;

• Feb. 20 — Colby, Community Building, 285 E. 5th St., Virgil Jones, (785) 462-2382; and

• Feb. 21 — Baldwin, Frontier Farm Credit office, 1270 N. 300 Rd., Janet McPherson, (785) 776-6955.

All of the meetings except the Colby meeting will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 4 p.m. The Colby meeting begins at 10 a.m. and runs until 5 p.m., with a meal included.

More information about the meetings is available by calling the contact person listed for the site of interest.

Relay for Life kicks off with meeting

The theme for this year's relay is, "Celebrate, Remember, Fight Back". The mission of the event is to represent the hope that those who have died from cancer will never be forgotten; that those who face cancer will be supported; and that one day, cancer will be eliminated.

The goal for the Norton Relay is $12,000. At this point, over $1,500 has been received from corporate sponsors.

The Relay will begin at 6 p.m. on June 20 and run until 7 a.m., June 21 at Elmwood Park.

Child wins 'Mittens' prize

things we don't normally get like collars, leashes pet care products and pet toys. Her event really helps raise the community's awareness of needs at the shelter."

Micalyn Scott (left), Wendy Schieferecke (center) and Jan Moore are three members of the Twisted Sistas, a belly dancing troupe from Hoxie who performed in Norton Sunday. The women performed both as a group and as soloists. The performance was sponsored by the Norton County Arts Council.

Between each of the performances, the troupe spoke of the history of belly dance and what time period each of the five women's costumes came from.

After the final performance, the troupe allowed a few brave audience members to go on stage and try a few moves, and then answered questions from the audience.
