

Falling Interest Rates Are to Your Advantage

You've probably heard in the news recently that the national interest rates are going down. Our farm and commercial loans are indexed to the Wall Street Journal Prime Rate, and we can adjust those on a daily basis, so that you can take advantage of the falling rates that you've heard so much about. Stop by and discuss the advantage of a variable rate loan for all your farm and commercial loans in today's market. Come in and discover the best kept secret in town.
