

OBITUARIES

Karen L. Dow
Feb. 25, 1965 - May 26, 2008

Karen Lee Dow, 43, North Platte, Neb., a former Captain at Norton Correctional Facility, died Monday, May 26 at the home of her sister, Terri Weaver, North Platte.

Karen L. Dow and Mary Velma (McDaniel) Dow.

Miss Dow was born, Feb. 25, 1965, at Alma, Neb., the third child born to Duane Lee "Dewey" and Mary Velma (McDaniel) Dow.

She was baptized as a child in the St. Mary's Catholic Church, Orleans, Neb. and was later confirmed at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Alma.

She continued her employment there for the next 20 years. She moved up through the ranks and ended her career with the rank of Captain.

Miss Dow was diagnosed with cancer in August of 2007 and moved to North Platte where she lived with her sister and her husband, Terri and Jack Weaver.

Miss Dow attended church wherever she lived, but maintained her membership at St. Mary's.

Her hobbies included woodworking, hunting, fishing and boating. She loved to collect antiques and, at one time, had her own antique business.

She was preceded in death by her father on Sept. 14, 1993; her grandparents, Leo and Alice McDaniel and Glen and Lois Dow; four uncles, Roy McDaniel, Hubert McDaniel, Ray McDaniel and Killren Fontenot; four aunts, Effie and Russell Champagne, Helen Farish, Ellen Jean McDaniel in infancy and Joyce McDaniel.

Survivors include her mother, Mary Dow, North Platte; a brother, Mark and Stephanie Dow, Council Bluffs, Iowa; two sisters, Terri and Jack Weaver, North Platte and Alice Dow, North Platte; three uncles, Nelan McDaniel, Eunice, La., Gerald and Rachel Dow, Hawarden, Iowa and Eldon and Maxine Dow, Winchester, Tenn.; six aunts, Ruth Fontenot, Jeanette McDaniel and Kathleen McDaniel, Lafayette, La., Vivian McDaniel, Houston, Texas, Theresa and John Millang, Kearney, Neb. and Elma Jean and Rolland Waggoner, Republican City, Neb.; six nieces and nephews; and one great-niece.

Mass of the Christian Burial was held today at St. Mary's with Fr. Harlan Waskowiak, leader. Burial was in the Alma Cemetery.

Banta-Torrey Funeral Home, Alma, was in charge of the arrangements.

Mannings win Norton Bridge Tournament for fourth time

By JAKE DURHAM From the very beginning it was obvious this was going to be an extraordinary bridge tournament. There were no faint hearts, even the least experienced were sporting the look and attitude of confidence and no holds barred.

There were some large gaps in scoring after round one but that was to be expected and by the end of round two it was obvious that a real barnburner was in the making as scores were tightening up and a couple of hands of good or poor cards would be paramount as every last point was being bid and squeezed to the utmost.

How close was it? It couldn't have been any closer, as in Bridge, the least unit of scoring is ten points and that's just the way it ended. The team of Sam and Bonnie Manning finished with the score of 12,030 points and the team of Myron Veh and Jerry Moritz finished with a score of 12,020.

It was the fourth championship for the Mannings and they took their accolades with dignity and honor. As usual there were a couple of regulars that were unable to make it. The most teams that have entered the tournament in a given year has been 24 with teams from as far away as Colby.

Bridge Tournament" and with some luck, twenty teams or more could be expected.

Other teams were: Dorothy Brown and Sue Ann Stutheit; Willy and Marsha Wiltfong; Dorothy Avery and Ruth Durham; Mary Lue Archibald and Alberta Slaby; Dewaine Stapp and Leone Purton; Dee Bushnell and Ann Schultz; Norman Walter and Joyce Sumner; Jim and Jean Williams; Joe and Jake Durham; Mary Jane Wahlmeier and Janis Persinger; Claudia Bridges and Ivy Rolland.
