

Working Women

Cooperation is the keyword to any successful undertaking. Cooperation is written all over this Working Women '09 special section. The staff has been busy since the initial meeting dealing with our annual salute to the working women of Norton County. Thus you can appreciate why Working Women '09 is the largest and most productive such section in the many years The Norton Telegram has highlighted the women in our business world. Thanks to Vicki Henderson, advertising creator and layout; Dana Paxton, advertising executive; Brandy Leroux, reporter; and Sherry Hickman, proofreader and consultant. Yours truly wrote the headlines and placed the photographs and stories. And of course many thanks to the 50 businesses who made this special section possible.
