

Dream fulfilled Resident, husband vet clinic owners

By BRANDY LEROUX

bleroux@nwkansas.com

All her life, Sara (Ketr) White has wanted to be a veterinarian. She grew up in Herndon, where her mother was a school teacher and her father was a farmer, and showed her how to give a shot to a cat.

She graduated from Sterling College after three years with a Bachelor of Science degree. She also met her future husband, Aaron, there, though they didn't start dating until they were both at Kansas State University, where they both earned their Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degrees.

Mrs. White and her husband wanted to live close to family, and Norton was an hour away from both of their parents.

Mrs. White came to Norton first, and worked at the clinic for a year, then she and her husband bought it from the previous owner.

"We are a full-service veterinary clinic," she said. "We can take care of all animals, large and small. If we don't feel comfortable with an animal's problems, we know good places to refer the owner to."

Mrs. White said she loves learning all the personalities of the animals and their owners.

"To me, it's rewarding to see that human-animal bond," she said. "And of course, I love keeping the animals healthy."

The worst part of her job is having to euthanize animals.

"It's hard to tell someone the best thing for their pet is to put it to sleep," she said.

Dr. Sarah White cleaned the teeth of one of her patients. She and her husband, Aaron, own the Norton Animal Health Center in Norton.

- Telegram photo by Brandy Leroux

Thanking all the Hard Working
Women on Our Staff

From left, front row: Patricia VanDiest, Darcie Brooks; back row: Kathryn Pfannenstiel,
Brenda Kaus, Virginia Harvey

314 W. Holme, Norton

Phone: 785-877-5109

MEMBER F.D.I.C.

the bank

The City of Norton
Salutes All Working Women

Thank You for all of Your Hard Work

Front row, from left, Joyce Garrison, Patty Rowh, Darla Ellis; back row: Christina Land, Debbie Lawson and Janet Manning

City of Norton

301 E. Washington, Norton - P.O. Box 160
PHONE 785-877-5000