Jubilee introduces 'RibFest' this year

The Lenora Jubilee is pleased to feature a new event this year before the Riverbilly and Chris Young concerts on Friday night. On June 18 from 5-7p.m., there will be a RibFest, sponsored by Crawford Supply Traeger Grills and A & A Coors. CCRG Barbeque in Norton will be administering the event for the Lenora Jubilee Association.

"CCRG has the experience that we'll need for organizing the barbeque contest," said Donna Nelson, Lenora Jubilee committee member.

"I'm confident that with their help, we'll have the most pleasant and tasty experience imaginable for everyone involved."

Barbeque enthusiasts of all kinds will love RibFest! Backyard gourmets are invited to enter into the rib cooking contest, and everyone else can buy a RibFest ticket to eat and enjoy. All rib entries will be judged by radio celebrities.

The contestant with the very best ribs will win a Little Tex Traeger Grill from Crawford Supply. Second place wins a cold beverage vending machine from A&A Coors, and third place gets a $200 supply of wood pellets from Crawford Supply.

Scott Sproul, Lenora Jubilee Association president, said,

"We're very excited about the RibFest. The whole park will smell amazing! This new partnership with CCRG, Crawford Supply and A&A Coors demonstrates a new commitment to working together to bring quality activities to one of the fastest growing music festivals in Kansas."

Entry forms for the RibFest will be available at www.lenorajubilee.com starting May 1 and will be due on June 1.

Be sure to visit the Web site often to get the latest news on the Lenora Jubilee Association, or become a fan on facebook and join in the conversation.

Sprayer Calibration Workshop has been scheduled for February

By KEITH VANSKIKE
Special to The Telegram

As producers continue to increase their use of pesticides, it is vital to ensure that sprayers are calibrated correctly.

To address these conditions, a Sprayer Calibration Workshop will be held in Norton on Thursday, Feb. 18 at the Norton County 4-H Building.

The program will run from 1:00 p.m. to about 4:00 p.m.

Bob Wold, K-State Extension Engineer, will present the program on the following topics: Nozzle type discussion and demonstration, calibration scenarios, droplet size discussion (coverage versus drift, calibration), Review of studies on efficacy and drift, and new technology.

An actual spray demonstration table will be in use. Applicator re-certification will be available for the following for three hours each: Agricultural Plant, Right of Way, Industrial Weed and Noxious Weed.

K-State Research and Extension and Twin Creeks Extension District are sponsoring this event. There is no cost but we do ask for a pre-registration to be called into the Extension Office at 785-877-5755 by Feb. 16th.

We must have ten people pre-registered to conduct the class.

Garden Show is scheduled

Alex Lingg, Manager

At last, one tough winter is about over. If you have cabin fever, just need a cup full of spring to hold you over until April or you are planning what you want to do in your yard this spring, we are excited to tell you that the place to find it all is the Wichita Garden Show, March 3-7, at Century II Civic Center, Downtown Wichita. Celebrate spring at the Wichita Garden Show as a time of rebirth, with enchanting, brilliant colors from spicy red tulips and more.

For more information about the Wichita Garden Show, visit our web site at www.wichitagardenshow.com.
