Relay for Life to take place at courthouse

Norton County's Relay for Life is rapidly approaching. The dates for this year's Relay are June 25 and 26, starting at 7 p.m. on Friday and winding down about 7 a.m. Saturday. The site this year is the courthouse square in Norton. Plans are being finalized for this annual event.

The American Legion will present the colors to start the festivities. Jeremy Wetter will play The Star Spangled Banner, and The Reverend Darel Boston will have the invocation. Following that, the purple-shirted survivors will take to the track for the celebratory survivors' walk, followed by the care-takers lap.

The survivors' lap brings up many emotions for the walkers. For some it is a statement of "beating" their cancer. For others, it simply says, "I am still here." Whatever the feelings, tears are often shed by walkers and observers.

For many, the peak of the event is the luminaria ceremony, which occurs about 10 p.m., after the sun is set. The candles in the luminaria bags are lit, and the names of the survivors being honored and the deceased being remembered will be solemnly read. Everyone is invited to attend this event, especially those who have been touched by cancer.

Entertainment is planned for the entire 12 hours. People of all ages are encouraged to attend and participate in the activities. Prizes will be given for some of the competitions. The ever-popular frozen tee shirt contest will be held again this year. A free movie will be shown at the theater at midnight.

Relay for Life is sponsored by the American Cancer Society, the sponsor of more birthdays. It is a fund raiser as well as fun event, and this is the 26th year for Relay. If you have not been contacted and want to donate, you may give money to the treasurer, Carol Otter, or buy luminaria ($10 each) in honor or in memory of someone you know who has had cancer from anyone involved in this year's Relay.

Please come join us for all or part of the event this month. Each step brings us a little closer to a cure and to providing more birthdays for more people.
