

Dogs, cats, guinea pig attend annual pet show

Cats and dog strutted their stuff and a guinea pig was on his best behavior Monday afternoon at the annual Norton County Fair 4-H Pet Show at the Andbe Home in Norton.

Dogs could be entered into showmanship and obedience.

The cats and guinea pig were luckier. No one expected them to perform. They just needed to be healthy, well groomed and not bite the judge.

Results of the show are being published in today's Norton Telegram.

Exotic animals in fair, too

The display of exotic pets will be held in conjunction with the 4-H and FFA Petting Zoo this year on Wednesday, July 28, from 3:30-4:30 p.m. at the Livestock Barn in Elmwood Park.

An exotic pet is one that would not be shown in another livestock, poultry or pet classes at the fair.

The Norton Fair Association would welcome anyone to join the petting zoo to exhibit their exotic pet. Anyone that has an exotic pet is asked to contact the Norton County Extension Office at 785-877-5755 to let us know of your entries.

This has been a popular event combined with the small petting zoo, especially for the younger children.

A full description of fair departments and schedules is available at the K-State Research and Extension Twin Creek District Norton County Office, ground floor of the Norton County Courthouse.

Shania, an Australian Shepherd owned by Kegan Vanover seemed to be smiling as she waited her turn in the pet show. Her patience was rewarded with a blue ribbon for showmanship and a red for obedience.
