Artwork shows off Norton County skills

The 2010 Norton County Fair is just around the corner, Monday-Saturday, July 26-31.

Even though school is out for the summer, the Open Class Art Department would like to encourage all school age children from kindergarten to this year's high school graduates to enter a picture, pottery, sculpture, batik or paper maché art project they may have done during the school year in the school children division.

They also encourage students to be creative and put together something new to enter in this year's fair.

There are no fees for entering. All pictures must be framed or matted ready to hang with a wire for hanging on a peg board. Hangers should be attached firmly, no tape or string.

The exhibits need to be entered between 10 a.m. and noon on Monday and are to be removed between 9 and 10 a.m. on Friday, July 30.

Entry cards may be picked up at the Extension Office and will also be available the day of entry.

The 2010 Fair Book can also be picked up at the Extension Office. This is helpful as it gives the classes that can be entered for the art department.

Exhibitors must be residents of Norton County or attending school in Norton County. Exhibits will be judged and ribbons will be given.
