about ten completed each year. As many as four to six of them eventually could be built in Prairie Dog State Park if demand warrants.

Cabins at all of the state parks can be reserved on line. The two new ones at Prairie Dog Park are already reserved through November.

There also are two primitive cabins in the Park.

"There're a lot of folks like me who are getting older and want to come out and enjoy the area, but don't want rustic conditions," said Frank Meyer, Wildlife and Parks Commissioner.

The new cabins can be used year round, and extend the use of the park season, bringing income 12 months rather than eight or nine months a year, for the primitive cabins, Hayden said.

Other places have seen tourism increase when modern cabins have been added to state parks, Hayden said.

JENNINGS NEWS

Those enjoying potluck Supper and bingo Tuesday evening at the Sunflower Senior Center were; Stan and Ramona Shaw; Bob and Neoma Tacha; Rachel Carter; Agnes Wahlmeier; Eleanor Morel; Imogene Keenan and Louise Cressler.

A large crowd attended the Ham and Bean and Cornbread Feed Sunday at noon in the Senior Center sponsored by the Jennings American Legion. Lots of yummy baked goods were for sale.

The $2 sack sale in the Legion building was very popular and fun too. All proceeds went to the Legion.

Roger and Pat Hall have purchased the property of the late Marjorie Shearer Tacha in Jennings. They have started to clean it up. Nice to see someone working on this property.

Leonard Fleckenstein and Eric Fleckenstein have purchased the former schoolhouse and the property to the north of the schoolhouse from Bus and Coach International.

There are two auctions in town this week. The Don and Tricia Cressler house will be auctioned off Thursday evening. A land auction will be held at the Community Hall Saturday morning for some of the Elwood Brock land.

Reminder: city water meters will be read Thursday, Oct. 21. Please post your reading on the door if your meter is inside.

We are enjoying all these beautiful fall days. Hope you are too.

Program Saturday gives dogs a second chance

By HARRIETT GILL

The Second Chance Homeless Pet Society will hold their annual Trivia Night, a major fundraising event Oct. 23 at 7 p.m. at the Norton Eagles Lodge. There is a 6 p.m. registration. Tables are $50, and each team should have six to eight members.

Trivia Night has become a fun and popular way to raise money for the society. Proceeds are used to buy supplies, spay and neuter the dogs, buy collars and leashes and other items that may be needed.

Second Chance Homeless Pet

Society was started in 1997 with the placement of two puppies at the Norton Correctional Facility. The society worked with the Norton Correctional Facility to develop a program that would benefit both inmates and the homeless animals.

Kathy Thibedeau, unit team manager and counselor at the Correctional Facility and Linda Terrell, also a counselor and president of Second Chance oversee the program.

Terry Romey, a member of Second Chance and a mechanical supervisor at the Norton Correctional Facility, is the one who transports most of the animals to the veterinarian, sets up times for adoption, and picks up the rescued animals that will enter the program. Some of the rescued dogs have been picked up by Norton's Animal Control Officer, Sherry Hickman, and were rescued after entering the local pound.

"We have a veterinarian in Hays that gives us a good deal with the spay and neuters, shots and other medical needs," said Romey

Romey said that there are usually six to seven dogs in the program at a time. The dogs live with their handlers in their dorm rooms and accompany the handler in all their activities with the exception of meal time.

"Each dog will be housebroken, have some basic training, and social skills when it becomes eligible for adoption. The dogs will be spayed or neutered and have all of the shots," said Romey.

Second Chance charges $80 for the adoption of a rescued dog.

NORTON MANOR

By DORIS MIZELL

Mildred Schwab went to Winfield with Wayne and Norma McAllister. They went to the Festival and Mildred visited her sister.

Doris Mizell spent a couple weeks with her daughter, Carolyn Linsenmeyer, Beatrice, Neb. in September. Carolyn brought her home on the 25th so Doris could attend the church service at Edmond. She was raised in that church as their house was on the west side of the church. The church was full for the closing service.

Mary Schoen and Mary Keith met Katie Klassen and two friends for dinner Monday at the Town and Country. Katie was Director of Nurses at the state hospital several years ago.

Tuesday's lunch guests of Barbara Whitehead were Mom, Alice Raile and sister, Becky Long, both of Oxford, Neb. at Town and Country.

Carolyn L. and Doris Mizell spent the afternoon of Sept. 30 visiting Arlene and Doyle Foss of Edmond. Then the next afternoon they took in the quilt show at Oberlin.

Jo Murphy, Diana Greving and Mary Keith traveled to Hildreth, Neb. to attend the funeral for Aaron Casper, Mary's cousin, Saturday.

This morning was the Manor Coffee. We had 12 present. We miss Deloros who is in the hospital. Hopefully she will be able to join us next month.

Oct. 2, Doris, Carolyn, Lester and Roberta McAllester went to Hays to visit Ivalee and Gus Munsinger. Gus is living at Good Samaritan now as he needs complete care. Ivalee went to lunch with them and then we went back to her apartment for more visiting. Carolyn spent several more days with her family before returning to Beatrice on Wednesday.

Graham Construction is putting new siding on the exterior of our building.
