Bill Vacura of Norton did his part in donating blood during the American Red Cross Blood Drive Tuesday.

Blood drive numbers down a bit

The number of pints of blood donated at the community blood drive Oct. 19 was down a bit, according to Anthony Knoll. Knoll has served as local community organizer for the past four years.

A total of 120 people came in to the drive which yielded 107 units, Knoll said. Usually the drive yields about 119 units. Knoll said the difference may be because farmers are busy in the field and didn't participate this time.

The blood drive ran from noon to 6:30 p.m.

Knoll wasn't sure when the blood drive started, but said it's been going on for years and years.

It used to be held just twice a year, but now it's held every two months because people can give blood every 56 days, and some are regular donors. Sometimes the drive includes double units with platelets in certain blood types, Knoll said.

Volunteers help with the event. Local businesses donate food for those working and giving blood, and 4-H clubs furnish homemade cookies every time. The events are held in different locations such as the American Legion, Armory, high school and parish hall.

LYLE NEWS

Oops! Changes are in order! Last week we said the Lyle Community Fund program/party was Oct. 23. Then we heard that is the Norcat Methodist Church Bazaar, so the date has been changed to Oct. 30 and it will be a Halloween party. Dress for Halloween if you like. Potluck at 6 p.m. followed by entertainment. June Jolly intended to help sew last Tuesday, but got really sick in the night. Her daughter came and stayed with her awhile, until they felt that she would be all right. She came to Norcat for pitch on Friday, back to McCook for more cards in the evening, and to Norton with Toots Magers on Sunday evening. On Saturday, she took Dean and Rhonda Jolly and Jim and Shawn Goliham, all of Lebanon, Neb. to the cafe in Beaver City.

Kathy Van Meter celebrated her 60th class reunion at the Hoxie Homecoming. They have lost 15 out of 36 graduates of the class of 1950. She and Lloyd Frandsen rode on the float in the parade, had lunch at the 4-H building, and watched the program for the 25th and 50th year classes in the library. She was honored with the town of Tasco and visited Larry and Irene Cressler at their log cabin, and had their picture taken with a Model T truck, which actually runs. On Sunday they visited the new hospital in Cambridge, Neb., heard speakers and became acquainted with the facility.

Elden Huff reported to Margaret Magers that his dad, Earnest, is doing much better, and is walking some.

My daughter, Carol, set up a new computer for me on Friday, so if I goof-up it won't be the computer's fault. They say, "Live and Learn." The trouble is, I forget faster than I learn.

We have had some rain; not enough for some who really like rain, but for those trying to get all their corn cut, it probably is enough for now. The elevator is taking in a lot of corn and milo and making a great pile north of the railroad tracks. They covered it with a huge tarp just ahead of the rain.

At church we were concerned to hear that Dee Magers was in the hospital. Toots, her sister-in-law, said she is home. Dewayne

Jackson is filling the pulpit in Jim Plotts' absence.

Kathy Van Meter brought more tomatoes to Lyle on Sunday, and Gary and Cathy Anthony hauled them (and me) to my place. She has been about swamped as she is helping with harvest in place of Lloyd's daughter who has had surgery, and Kathy has canned all the tomatoes they want. I appreciate the tomatoes and she appreciates them being used.

Tielia and Aubrey High went to Katherine, to visit family and take pictures of their new grandson, Rowan Augustine Bader.

Remember the Halloween party at Lyle on Saturday. Donations welcome for upkeep.
