

Scenes from Summer 2012

(Left) Rod Skov of WaKeeney spent Sept. 16 on the lake with his modified boat. Skov said he outfits boats with camouflage material like branches and foliage to use for duck hunting. (Above) Later in the year than usual, this fawn, still with its spots, was roving about the park the last week of August.

(Above) Activities during the annual July 4 celebration included a sponge race for children to move water from one bucket to another using only a sponge. (Right) Wyatt Cressler of Norton spends the last of his Labor Day weekend at the Sebelius Reservoir fishing docks. Crappie was the catch of the day.
