LYLE NEWS

Carolyn Plotts hosted the Liberty Star Club on Wednesday in her home that is getting prettier all the time. Members were Toots Magers, Sandy Gade, Kathy Van Meter, Joyce Price, Babe Hawkins, Carol Moye, Veda Wood, and guest, Aubrey High. Carol had an interesting program on two of the signers of the Declaration Of Independence, Thomas Jefferson and John Adams, and gave us all a complete copy of "The Defense of Fort McHenry" by Francis Scott Key, usually referred to as The national Anthem or "Oh, say, can you see?" We hardly ever hear all four verses. Sandy Gade had a fun quiz for activities, and Carolyn served a scrumptious dessert. [Do you know, I had to look up that word?] They say if you can't spell it you shouldn't use it.

In the late afternoon on Sunday, July 14, Jim Applegate drove by the Lyle church and saw smoke around the electric pole. Judy Easton and Jane Engelhardt, who were visiting Toots Magers saw him go to Kathy Van Meters, who was not there. They hooked Toots' hose to Kathy's hydrant and did their best to contain the fire while David Wilson and Matt fought it until members of the Norcatur Fire Department arrived, Carl Lyon and Lucas Bailey came and finished putting it out. They stayed until workers from Prairie Land Electric Co., worked on the pole where sparks had started the fire.

Joyce Sumner spent some time in the hospital this week and is receiving treatment. We hope she recovers quickly. Von Sumner and grandchildren drove to Lyle to see what was going on with the fire.

June Jolly finished the quilt that has occupied her time recently. She attended her KT Club on Thursday. One of the members of that club, Shirley Wishon, of Danbury, lost a brother a few weeks ago. She went to another state to visit another brother, and immediately after she returned home, heard that that brother had died.

JENNINGS NEWS

Colleen Wagoner, Sharon Springs, and her two grandchildren Tyce and Tenley Bollers, Strasburg, Colo., visited Wednesday and Thursday at the home of Stan and Ramona Shaw.

Tuesday evening the Sunflower Senior potluck supper and the program were enjoyed by Agnes Wahlmeier, Eleanor Morel, Carol Carter, Carla Latimer, Daniel Schwarz, Bob Jones, Bob and Neoma Tacha, Mary Wahlmeier, Diane and Dave Carter, Jacinta Carter, Stan and Ramona Shaw, Rachel Carter, Louise Cressler, Heather West, Donnie and Grace, Jenny Fenner, Jayden and Ty; Denise and Scott Taylor and children Candace, Sidney, Rayna, Abe, Quinnley and Vincent. After the delicious meal, we were entertained with piano solos and singing by Jayden Fenner; Candace, Rayna, Sidney, Abe and Quinnley Taylor. Directed by Diane Carter.

There were only six card players at the Center Wednesday afternoon. Scott Taylor, Agnes Wahlmeier, Linda Spresser, Diane Carter, Eleanor Morel and Louise Cressler played pinochle.

Norton Correctional men worked in Jennings Tuesday and Wednesday. They mowed the sewer ponds inside banks, painted most of the curbs and cut trees in the Roadside Park.

The city of Jennings appreciates the work these men do for our town.

There will be a community meeting Friday, July 26 at 7 p.m. at the Jennings Community Building. The purpose of this meeting is to discuss "What You would like to see done in Jennings." Representatives from Economic Development will be on hand to discuss a Neighborhood Revitalization Program. Do you care about your community? If so you are encouraged to attend this meeting. We have missed out on the showers that have been coming to parts of northwest Kansas. We will welcome somewhat cooler temperatures the next few days.

Fishing for foul...

Tuesday night was the kick off of the carnival at the Norton County fair. There was a good turn out that night providing fun for kids of all ages. Jody Sprague and her grand daughter Aubree Carver took the time to fish for a duck but little Aubree just wanted to put her feet in the water.

Agency awarded funds Hays Medical Center to host Mud Run

Northwest Kansas Community Corrections was awarded a grant for a drug treatment and enforcement program, Kansas Attorney General Derek Schmidt announced the week of 7-15. The Hays-based organization was awarded $91,673 to fund substance abuse, methamphetamine abuse, health, mental anger management and drug testing and surveillance programs.

"Providing the best public safety services and victim support requires a dedicated staff of local officials," Schmidt said. "This grant will help advance local priorities for improving public safety." The grant is part of the Federal Edward J. Byrne Memorial Justice Assistance Grant Program and was awarded by the Kansas Criminal Justice Coordinating Council.

HaysMed's Center for Health Improvement and Fort Hays State University are sponsoring the third annual Big Creek Mud Run on Saturday, August 24. The mud run is a 2 mile obstacle course that winds through the Fort Hays State University Campus. Participants should be ready to "get their dirty on"; as they jump, crawl and climb through mud and other obstacles.

for the region." said Kelly Flaska, Fitness/Aquatics Supervisor of the Center for Health Improvement. "People from all over the state come to participate."

The Mud Run is carried out in heats of 40 people. The first wave begins at 8:30 am and a new wave starts every 20 minutes with the last one beginning at 11:30 am. You can your friends together and all run in the same wave.

At 12 noon there is a Kids Mud Bath that lets kids 3 and older have fun playing in the mud without any obstacles. There will also be food, music and prizes.

Deadline for registering for the event is August 21tst. The fee is $25 for participants and they must be 18 years and older.

"This has been a great event run in your own wave or get All participants will receive a t-shirt, participation medal and a free lunch. Participants are encouraged to bring along their families and friends.
