

Huelskamp files for re-election

Thursday, Tim Huelskamp filed for re-election to Congress in the Big First District of Kansas. Huelskamp submitted the necessary paperwork with the Kansas Secretary of State in Topeka.

"Each week I return home to my wife and four children in Kansas - because my family, my heart, my home, and my farm are in Kansas, not Washington D.C.," said Huelskamp. "As I have traveled across the Big First District of Kansas conducting 238 Town Hall meetings, I have heard time and again from Kansans who are tired of the wasteful spending, burdensome over-regulations and incompetence of the Obama Administration."

Huelskamp added that he has led by example on the issue of spending, returning more than $342,000 in savings to the U.S. Treasury since coming to Congress. According to independent analyses, he has one of the most fiscally-responsible voting records of any member of Congress. "Kansans are deeply concerned about the massive $17.5 trillion debt and out-of-control spending of this Administration, and I will continue this critical fight to get Washington spending under control."

"We have been successful in stopping some burdensome over-regulations, like the Department of Labor rule that would have prevented most farm kids from working on most family farms," said Huelskamp. "But every day the threat of government red tape worsens as Obama's bureaucrats now want to regulate cow gas, farm ponds and private property in an unprecedented assault on rural America and our way of life."

Huelskamp has been at the forefront of efforts to expose the incompetencies and failures of Washington politicians and bureaucrats. Whether it is leading the charge on his Veterans Affairs Committee to get Veterans the care they deserve, successfully demanding investigations into the Benghazi and IRS scandals, highlighting the massive invasion of privacy by the NSA, fighting to protect the religious liberties of all Americans, or taking on the failed ObamaCare program, Huelskamp believes that "we must hold President Obama accountable for the incompetence, failures and corruption of his Administration."

Huelskamp is a Republican from Fowler, Kansas. He represents the First Congressional District of Kansas (also known as the "Big First"). Congressman Huelskamp remains a strong advocate for his constituents in the Big First and has emerged as a top conservative leader in Washington, fighting for Kansas values even if it means challenging party insiders and special interests inside the Beltway. His principled stands against wasteful government spending, out-of-control debt, and runaway over-regulation -- and for traditional marriage, protection of the unborn and our rural way of life has earned him strong continued support at home, where it matters.

Patrol steps up campaign enforcement

The peak of summer travel across our nation's highways is about to begin. The Kansas Highway Patrol will be working additional hours for the next two weeks, thanks in part to funding from the Kansas Department of Transportation through the STEP (Special Traffic Enforcement Program) campaign, to help motorists reach their destinations safely. The enforcement campaign runs from Monday, May 19, through Sunday, June 1.

"Memorial Day is a celebration of the great men and women who have lost their lives serving this great country and also marks the start of summer vacation season nationwide. The Highway Patrol and all of our law enforcement partners would remind all Kansans to buckle up, Every trip, Every time," said Lieutenant Joshua Kellerman, Patrol public information officer. "We would also remind everyone to make plans in advance for a sober driver. Law enforcement will also be out looking for those drivers who made the wrong decision to drink and drive."

The Special Traffic Enforcement Program allows officers to work overtime hours, providing extra manpower on the roads and focusing on areas such as occupant protection, enforcing impaired driving laws, and other traffic safety issues. This year's focus of the Memorial Day Special Traffic Enforcement Program campaign is, "Click It or Ticket," encouraging seatbelt/child safety seat use for occupants of all ages.

Over the 2013 Memorial Day holiday reporting period for the Patrol (KHP stats only), troopers worked three fatal crashes on Kansas' highways. Three people were killed in those crashes, all of which were alcohol-related. There were nine total impaired driving crashes. The Patrol arrested 30 people for impaired driving. Personnel also assisted 1,176 motorists who needed help on Kansas roads.

The Patrol wishes all of those traveling during the Memorial Day holiday weekend, and throughout the summer, safe travels. If you are in need of assistance on a Kansas highway, you can call Highway Patrol for assistance at *47 (*HP) or *582 (*KTA) for the Kansas Turnpike.

Fair-goers warned of secondary tickets

The Kansas State Fair is warning fairgoers to use caution if they elect to purchase any U.S. Cellular Grandstand tickets from secondary ticket brokers. On-line ticket brokers are promoting tickets and premier seating to the 2014 Kansas State Fair U.S. Cellular Grandstand at inflated rates. General Manager, Denny Stoecklein indicated the Kansas State Fair has received inquiries regarding tickets on sale at sites like www.hunterhayestour.com andwww.ticketnetwork.com "These sites are advertising and selling tickets they cannot guarantee" says Stoecklein. "They have been offering for sale tickets that we haven't even put on sale yet. Thus, we know they do not have the advertised tickets in their inventory."

The Kansas State Fair contacted the Kansas Attorney General's Office, which plans to communicate with these sites to cease selling tickets these brokers do not have. However, these sites can gain access, and purchase tickets as of May 10. Secondary market ticket brokers can purchase tickets and current laws allow them to sell these tickets above market value.

The Kansas State Fair and Tix.com are the only official sellers for the Kansas State Fair concert tickets. "We would discourage anyone from securing Kansas State Fair U.S. Cellular Grandstand tickets from any site except the authorized site: www.tix.com." continues Stoecklein. "Grandstand tickets purchased from any company, individual or website other than the Kansas State Fair and Tix.com is at your own risk."

The Kansas State Fair will run Sept. 5-14. U.S. Cellular Grandstand concert tickets went on sale May 10 at 8 a.m. and may be purchased at the Kansas State Fair ticket office, by calling 1-800-362-3247 or at www.kansasstatefair.com.

Fun on the farm!

Kindergarteners from Eisenhower Elementary School took a field trip to Rick and Vicki Robison's Farm, north of town on May 9. (Pictured) These kids got a close up view of gold fish swimming in the pond. The kids also played games, learned crafts, and of course, there were plenty of animals to keep them entertained.

HANSEN MUSEUM

The Dane G. Hansen Museum presents "Earth and Loom: A Century of Native American Art" scheduled to open May 16 and run through July 13. This exhibit will consist of 20 Navajo weavings dating from the late 19th century to contemporary. They represent different regions and weaving styles over the past century. Also in the exhibit, will be 26 pieces of pueblo pottery representing the work of many significant Native American potters from nine different pueblos. This pottery also dates from the late 19th century to contemporary.

This exhibition is the private collection of Dennis and Carola Deschner of Phillipsburg. They started collecting nearly 30 years ago by accident when they bought a Navajo weaving in Colorado. They continued to find pieces as they travelled and fell in love with Southwestern art, basketry, and Pueblo pottery.

Our May Artist of the month is Roy Jessup from Oakley. He has watercolor and pencil drawings on sale through the month of May. Come in and check out the work of this extremely talented artist.

Our water aerobics class will be starting June 3 and run through July 24. The class will meet every Tuesday and Thursday from 7 - 8 p.m. The class is taught by Shari Buss, and the cost is $25 per student. Must be 18 years or older!

Our next Joy of Painting class is June 7 and 8. Saturday we will be painting "This Ole Barn" and Sunday we will paint "Looking Glass Falls."

For more information on any of our classes or exhibits check our website at hansenmuseum.org or call the museum at 785-689-4846.
