United Methodist Women
On Nov. 20, the Wilsonville United Methodist Women met at Edith Rikli's home in Cambridge. Pres. Lillian Lemaster opened the meeting with prayer and all reciting the "Purpose".
Nadeane Haag gave the prayer calendar report and Lelia Lang gave the missionary minute. A report was given on the successful Lord's Acre offering. Lelia Lang gave a well-prepared Thanksgiving lesson.
Everyone enjoyed a tape "Fill My Cup, Lord" The offering was taken and the meeting closed with a Thanksgiving litany. Edith served tasty refreshments. Members also filled out the U.M.W. books for 2004. The December meeting will be a co-op program and lunch.

entire life in the Lebanon area. Betty was well known here as she hung wallpaper in many Wilsonville homes. She was preceded in death by her parents, her husband, George in 1991, her son, Gaylord in 1999, and two sisters, Glenva Orvis and Mildred OHare.
Survivors include her two daughters, Cheryl and Kenneth Ostrander of North Platte, Brenda and Frank Moore of Duncanville, Texas, three sisters, Vada Huntsman, Donna Hardin and Sharon Wolzen, Four grandchildren, six great grandchildren and two step great grandchildren, nieces, nephews and many friends.
Another death this month has been Deanna Wauffle of Norton. Deanna was born Aug. 8, 1943 near Wilsonville, the second daughter, of Alfred and Evelyn Kinne. She grew up in Wilsonville and received her education here. She was preceded in death by her parents, three husbands, James Finnegan, Gary Schulze and Harold Wauffle., a sister, Betty Tauber and a brother, John Kline.
Survivors include her daughter, Debbie and Dan Bussing, Hays, Ks. two sons, Fred and Patty Wauffle, St Francis and Gary and Melanie Schulze, Clay Center and 10 grandchildren vice the congregation was joined by several others for a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner spiced up with lots of good fellowship. This included Jeff and his family as well as Kirk Kasson and his family, another minister who grew up in this church.

Nancy Knutson who also decorated the dinner tables had arranged a beautiful worship table in the sanctuary. Some of the decorations had been made by some of the children.
Kendall and Virginia Rice attended the Hastings Barbershop Music performance Saturday evening.
A pre-Thanksgiving dinner was held at the Kenneth Holtze home on Sunday when their children all came home. This included Rhonda, LaVerne Banzhaf and family, Brad, Renee Holtze and boys of Cambridge and Kendra and Russ Hoagland and family of Hastings.

Paper to up amount of news

As an additional bonus for local readers, on Tuesdays we will be including the County Advocate, an area-wide shopper covering northwest Kansas from here to Burlington, Colo., and down to Oakley.
"We think our readers are going to like our new product," Publisher Cynthia Haynes said. "There's been a lot of good comments on our new emphasis on news. With the new format, we hope to get more news and pictures into the paper and run more photo pages.

"We are looking for local people to write columns for our second editorial page.
"The paper should be a public forum as well as the place people can get the information they need to make information about everything from voting to planting their wheat. We want to tell them about soup suppers, rodeos, taxes, school functions and public meetings."
The Monday edition — the former Norton County Telegram — will become the Telegram Extra, which will be full of ads and classifieds plus a weekly schedule..

Congratulations State Champions
Large numbers of Cambridge fans drove to Lincoln on Friday to support their Trojan football players. There were some very tense moments but with only 19 seconds left in the game, Cambridge scored a touchdown to break the 14-14 tie. Prior to that Cambridge had held their opponent from making about a foot for another touchdown.
The Cambridge gymnasium was almost filled to capacity on Tuesday evening for the "Young Americans". The first hour was music with students from a number of schools that the group had worked with for three days. The last hour was their program. Wilsonville students singing were Alicia Brown, Chelsea Ruf and Ashley Rice.

Harvest Services.
Sunday morning Pat Yost greeted approximately 50 people for the annual Thanksgiving worship service at 10:30 a.m. Assisting with parts of the service besides the guest minister, Jeff Bell of Holdrege were Kathy and Bill Lewis, Janet Trospen, Joe Kasson, Kendall Rice, Connie Wilson, Alicia, Nick and Gary Brown, Vic Knutson, Warren Rice, Doug Palmer, Kelsey and Travis Landreth, and Janene Holtze. June Palmer and Virginia Rice were at the piano and organ.
The service closed with the Harvest Offering. Following the ser-

Double 8 Club
The Double 8 Club met November 19th at Peg Rice's home. President Adeline Ballou conducted the business meeting. Members were reminded of the Christmas Party December 3rd at the Plaza in Cambridge. Barb Wolfe presented a very interesting program. She used a tape narrated by John Wayne "America, Why I Love Her". Barb also read an article written by Jessica Lynch and used an excerpt from Lynn Cheney's book — "American A Patriotic Primer." Peg served a delicious lunch assisted by Virginia Andre and Virginia Rice.
Kassons' Visitors
Macy and Micah Kasson were guest of their grandparents Joe and Alice Kasson this past weekend. Their parents returned them home Sunday after the Thanksgiving services at the Baptist-Christian Church.
