WILSONVILLE

By VELMA HOLTZE

A good crowd enjoyed the special Christmas music at the Baptist-Christian worship service Sunday morning. During the offering Kendall Rice sang "Love came Down at Christmas". Just prior to Bill Weaver's message on the "Greatest Gift" a sextet composed of Karen and Gary Brown, Alice Kasson, Amanda Jaukin, Connie Holliday, and Kendall Rice sang "Glory to God In the Highest". Welcome guests were the Carl Wolfe family from Arizona and her mother from McCook.

Mary Palmer and Coleen Ballou were called to Lincoln the middle of last week because of the condition of their father, Leon O'Brein. They returned home Thursday evening as he is showing some improvement.

Norma Jean Frandsen was released from Bryan Memorial Hospital on Wednesday. She is recuperating at her home in Oberlin closer to her children and grandchildren. Her husband, Lloyd, is betwixt Oberlin and their home near Cambridge.

Adeline Ballou attended the Methodist Christmas program and soup supper in Beaver City on Sunday evening where her granddaughters participated.

Wilsonville Public Library
The Wilsonville Public Library's Christmas drawing was held on Dec. 22. The winner was Margaret Spence. Nancy Knutson drew the name out of the large basket of tickets.

The State aid approval letter was received on Monday. Due to budget cuts the State will be lowering the dollar amount to $667, which is down one hundred dollars from the previous year.

Librarian Resigns
Librarian Laurie Laws has given her resignation to the Library Board. She will continue to write the Wilsonville Review with Velma Holtze.

I Help Others
Laurie Laws hosted the I Help Others Club at the Library on Dec. 17. For devotions Mrs. Laws read the Christmas Story from the Bible. Roll Call proved to be very interesting as each woman told her favorite spice and shared a recipe using that spice. Watkins cinnamon ranked high on the list as only two other spices were named. Mrs. Laws even had cookies for the women to sample using anise. Several recipes were shared. Mrs. Laws also had a Christmas story read about the wisemen. Mrs. Laws served pumpkin pecan pie and coffee. The women will meet again on Jan. 14 with Margalee Ruf.

News Needed Early
As Laurie Laws, the news technician who has been e-mailing the news to the various editors has taken a different job there will have to be a change in news coverage. Beginning Jan. 1 Velma

Holtze and Mrs. Laws would like to have your news by Sunday afternoon at 5 p.m. It is hoped that you will report all club meetings and events earlier in the week as soon as possible. If this is impossible Mrs. Holtze will accept a few items until Monday morning at 10 a.m. These will be faxed and this is not as good for the editors at Cambridge, Beaver City and especially Norton. Your cooperation will be appreciated.

Christmas Cards Bring News
Pastor Doris Harlan of Sidney sends greetings to all her Wilsonville friends. She is enjoying her new apartment where she has a little more independence than she had in the retirement home. Here she could have her cat, which she had to give up.

From the Rick Morgan's in Colorado it is learned that Mr. Morgan is very busy with his greenhouses, employing a couple others part time. He is also doing some supply ministry. Diane has been diagnosed with multiple sclerosis. The boys are all doing well.

Adeline Ballou received word from the former Marge Parker, wife of the late Dick Parker. Mrs. Parker had remarried and told of the death of her second husband this past year.

A phone call from Pastor Steve Jergensen, North Platte, sends his greetings to everyone, saying they think of the Wilsonville church people as well as many others quite often.

Word to the Kendall Rice's from Pastor Jay Mitchell tells that he has finished an interim ministry in Kansas and that they will be going to a church in South Dakota for their next ministry.

Word also comes from the Rev. John Akers and wife that they are still quite active at a retirement home in South Dakota near their daughter.

Church Time Changes
Beginning this Sunday, Dec. 28 and continuing through 2004 The Baptist-Christian Sunday School will begin at 9:45 a.m. with church following at 11 a.m. Keith Theobald will be preaching every Sunday. Mr. Theobald will also be conducting a Bible Study one evening a week. Anyone in the community who is interested in attending this study, please let someone in the church know.

United Methodist Women held their Christmas meeting on Dec. 18 at the church. Pres., Lillian Lemaster, opened the meeting with prayer and all reciting the "Purpose". Mary Wilmot reported on the generous "World Thanks Offering". It was voted to give a monetary Christmas gift to Epworth Village. Nadeane Haag stated that United Methodist women would be 135 years old in 2004. Everyone especially enjoyed the Christmas music played by Margaret Spence. Rev. Malchow closed the meeting with prayer.
