

Bible school begins

Daily Vacation Bible School at Peace Lutheran Church in St. Francis will be held the week of Aug. 10-14. All children, ages 3 to sixth grade, are welcome to attend from 5 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The church will host a "Barnabas Team" of young people from the Association of Free Lutheran congregations, Minneapolis, Minn., during the week of Bible school.

These four young adults, students at the Association Free Lutheran Bible School, are spending the summer traveling in the mid-west and southern United States, assisting local Association of Free Lutheran congregations with daily Vacation Bible school programs, summer youth camps, and other areas of service. They have been trained in the use of music, puppets, and one-to-one ministry to assist local congregations in their summer work.

Members include Amanda Aldrich, Ventura, Calif., Bethany Marschner, South Heart, N.D.; Jeremy Langness, Ishpeming, Mich., and Matthew Quanbeck, Minot, N.D.

To register for the Bible School, contact Carol Wolters at 332-2928.

Center offers good meals

By Karen Krien
karen.k@nwkansas.com

Three days a week, senior citizens and any other person who might want to, can come to the St. Francis Senior Center and enjoy a hot, balanced lunch.

On Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, the senior center opens its doors to people wanting to eat. Seniors, 60 years and older, can eat for only $2.75 while anyone else can come in and eat for $5. The only restriction is, people must call by 9 a.m. to let the cooks know so they will know how many to plan for.

For those unable to come to the center, there are people who deliver meals to homes.

The favorite meals are fried chicken and roast beef but all meals are good and prepared with care. There is also a menu published at the beginning of the month.

Each serving day, there is an average of 80 meals enjoyed with 25 to 30 meals delivered or picked up.

There is no cooking or dishes to do, said ErvaGene DeAragon, manager.

There is also time for socializing, playing cards or putting puzzles together afterwards.

The dress is casual, she said, so people don't have to worry about dressing up.

Head cook is Janice Krien.

Helpers are Kate Jenkins, Carol Redding, Mildred Barnhart and Laura Pugh. Jo Ford and Neva Wahrman recently retired.

Mrs. Krien said they are applying for a grant for new equipment. Chuck Kribs, Cheyenne County Development Corporation coordinator, is helping them receive a grant to get a new stove, convection oven and a refrigerator.

Our appliances are old, Mrs. Krien said. The stove is over 30 years old and the rest of the appliances need replacing.

Stop by the center and have a meal. It isn't just for "old" people — Everyone can enjoy a good hot meal.

Thank you!

Thank you to all the organizations, businesses and individuals that made it possible for me to attend the 2009 Kansas Shrine Bowl. Without you it would not have been possible for me to get to experience this awesome opportunity. A special thank you to Mickey Graves and Art Nelsen for helping me sell ads. A special thank you to Coach Lambert and the St. Francis High School football coaches for helping me throughout my high school career.

To Mr. Werner, thank you for being on the sidelines and supporting the St. Francis Indian football program. Thank you to my family and friends that made the trip to Wichita to watch and support me. And the biggest thank you goes to the St. Francis Indian fans and boosters, without you none of this would have been possible.

E-waste pick up set for Tuesday

By Karen Krien
karen.k@nwkansas.com

The third e-waste pick up will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Tuesday at the St. Francis Park behind the courthouse.

The location was changed, said Roger Jensen, county representative on the Northwest Kansas Regional Recycling Organization board, to a more convenient place.

If items are heavy, Mr. Jensen said there will be people to help unload them.

The eight-county organization has had some successful collecting. Mr. Jensen said four semi loads of e-waste has been hauled out of the Colby center and another load is about ready to go.

We have had success in the last two collections in St. Francis, he said.

For years, people have questioned what to do with their old televisions and radios. Then computers came along and practically every family had a computer that much of it was obsolete by the time it was taken out of the box.

Anyone having questions should contact him at 785-332-3326.

als because it is part of a grant program but, after the 2-year time period, there may be a charge

Some of the items considered for e-waste collection are: computers, parts and accessories, printers, scanners, fax machines, copy machines, telephones, cellular phones, answering machines, televisions, stereos, DVD and VCR players, speakers, radios, tape recorders, satellite receivers, toner and ink-jet cartridges, computer games and rechargeable batteries.

Future collections will be announced. For more information, call 785-460-1840 or 332-5011.

Local collections

The county recycling center south of the museum on U.S. 36 is open daily. There are specific bins for items — they are clearly labeled. Mr. Jensen said people in the county do exceptionally well in recycling which helps keep the landfill from filling so quickly.

He would like to see more cardboard recycled. It is easy, he said. Simply break down the box to a flattened state and drop it in the cardboard collection site in the back of the building.

Items taken

E-waste item pick ups are free to households, government offices and educational institutions located in Cheyenne, Decatur, Gove, Logan, Rawlins, Scott, Sheridan and Thomas counties.

There is a charge for items brought in by businesses, organizations and out-of-region recyclers. The charge is $5 for computer monitors; $10 for televisions; $2 for microwaves or 10-cents a pound per items for all other e-waste items.

October will mark the end of the first year of e-waste collections, Mr. Jensen said. Right now, the collection is free for individu-
