The St. Francis Lions Club will be taking orders for the 2008 Community Calendar in June and July. The calendars include important family dates such as birthdays or anniversaries. Many clubs list their meeting dates and times as well. Proceeds from the sales of the calendar are given back to the community in various forms such as donations to Boy and Girl Scouts, assistance with eye glasses for needy individuals, tuition to the Lions Band Camp, high school scholarships and donations to other community services and needs.

The Lions have done some re-districting this year so people may not have the same salesperson as in the past. Those people not contacted by July 15 should call one of the following Lions to place an order: Elmer Kellner, 785-332-2950; Dick Rohweder, 785-332-2273; or Ruben Schultz, 785-332-2939.

Antique shop gets new face

Antique collectors and those who just like stuff will have a reason to stop in Bird City. The Bargain Corner opens on Tuesday, June 5.

Owner and operator, Jerry Toler, plans to have the business on Bird Avenue and Second open Tuesdays through Saturdays. Weekdays hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. The store will offer antiques, furniture, household items and miscellaneous collectibles.

"If you need it, we may have it," said Mr. Toler. "There will be a mix of a little bit of everything — the kind of place that's just fun to browse in."

The store will accept a limited number of consignments, as space allows and at the discretion of the owner. Clothing items will not be sold.

The building had housed Aztec Antiques, owned by Darwin and Bev Higgins.

"Mr. and Mrs. Higgins have retired," Mr. Toler said, "but they conveyed their appreciation for everyone's patronage during the time they operated the store."

Originally built in the 1920s, the structure housed Downing Implement. In each room and around every corner something waits to be discovered.

"We have collectibles, treasures and neat junk," said Mr. Toler. "Come and see what you can find."

Concert, food fest to help victims

Blue River Promotions, in conjunction with the Burlington Chamber of Commerce, presents "Red Dirt on the High Plains" on Saturday, June 2. The neighbors helping neighbors community-wide effort begins at 5 p.m. mountain daylight time at Old Town, 420 South 14 Street, in Burlington. The proceeds will go to help the tornado victims in Holly, Colo., and Bird City.

"We are pleased with the response to assist Holly and Bird City," said Melissa Clapper, Burlington Chamber of Commerce president. "This benefit is truly a community wide effort to create a matching fund for each entity."

For Holly, the repair of its water infrastructure is enormous and, with the support of the event, Ms. Clapper said "it is attainable." In Cheyenne County the fund will be utilized for county emergency services.

Headlining the concert is the "Architect of Red Dirt Music", Mike McClure, Oklahoma musician, writer, performer and producer. Joining McClure is one of "Red Dirt Music's" young guns, Bo Phillips, who hails from Stillwater, Oklahoma. Kansas "Red Dirt" talent Blaine Younger will showcase his original compositions and The Heartland Band comes to the fundraiser from Hays, Kansas. Tickets are available at the gate.

Everyone is encouraged to bring a lawn chair, appetite and generous spirit to the fundraiser. The evening includes a beer garden, rocky mountain oyster fry, festival food and beverages. The Burlington Chamber of Commerce is currently accepting monetary donations at its "Neighbors Fund" at P.O. Box 62 Burlington, CO 80807, for the two communities.

The end of school marks the final activities and the revealing of the kings and queens of the Accelerated Reading Program in St. Francis. The meeting was held in the gym on Friday, May 18, and three sets of royalty were recognized for reading and acquiring points in the reading program.

Top readers were Nate Clapper with 186.9 points and Taylor Archibalk, 167.9 points. Others recognized were: first through third grade - Matthis Witzel, 126.7 points, and Jenna Confer, 125 points; fourth through sixth grade - Zach Gienger, 164.3 points and Randee Grover, 148 points.

At the end of the year, those students meeting six out of the seven goals set were allowed to enjoy a pizza and pop party in the park. There were 114 students meeting the goal.

"We plan have a similar reading program plan next year," she said.

The students were taught to set their own goals and that they be realistic goals, she said.

There 23 students who, through their reading, accumulated over 100 points.

Those in the 100 point club were: Hanna Bracelin, 101.8 points; Laura Brunk, 129.6; Tate Busse, 102.5; Casey Keller, 100; Kensley Krien, 103.4; Wyatt Landenberger, 100.2; Katie McDanel, 134.3; Clarice Neitzel, 106.6; Jeremiah Neitzel, 108.2; Ally Northrup, 101.5; Hannah Rider, 105.7; Makayla Rogers, 100.4; Taylor Rogers, 102.9; Kyle Samuelson, 127.9; Ally Schleppe, 130.7; Sophie White, 113.2; Dylan Wolaver, 100.7.
