Members vote unanimously to redesign Parkway Drive

By Sandy Barnhart

After more deliberation at the June 5 St. Francis City Council meeting, members voted unanimously to hire Grasser Construction out of Stratton, Colo., to redesign Parkway Drive and one block (1st Street) south of the hospital. The cost will be $147,460 with a possible savings of $15,000.

The company had suggested that possibly in two years, the city go in with another 1.5-inch overlay. This is the same company that had worked on Emerson and Dennison streets.

At the last meeting the council had been informed that the paving company which would be located in St. Francis would charge approximately $177,000 to redesign Parkway Drive. The bid included laying a concrete trough down the center of the street for the water to run with 5 inches of asphalt on the sides. The council had asked that Superintendent J.R. Landenberger get additional bids from another company.

The bid of $147,460 with Grasser will include a 4-inch mat of asphalt on Parkway Drive, Second Street from College to Francis, Fourth Street from College to Parkway and a 5-inch mat on First Street in front of the hospital.

The $15,000 that the city could save would be if the city can use the milling machine that the county gets from Colby and do the tearout of the streets themselves.

Dave Flemming, county road and bridge supervisor, spoke favorably of helping with the milling of the roads. At the present time the city has $168,000 left in the budget.

Flag Day ceremony set for Thursday

The Cheyenne County Historical Society is holding a Flag Day observance at the Cheyenne County Museum on Thursday (today).

The Once Again Sound Band will begin playing at 7:30 p.m. The program will begin at 8.

Patriotic and gospel music will be performed by the St. Francis Singers. Ice cream cones will be served from the old soda fountain at the museum.

Following the program, a special flag burning ceremony will take place. Watch for parking directors as a space near the museum will be reserved for the program and burning ceremony.

Those who have a flag that needs to be destroyed can drop it by the museum or The Herald office. Seating will be limited so everyone is asked to bring a lawn chair if they have one.

SEVERAL Cheyenne County residents attended car shows in Oberlin and Selden. Ford pickup belongs to Pete Jensen, and the 42 Chevy pickup (Sweet Pea) belongs to Bill Farland. Award winners in Oberlin were Farland and Everett Eggers, both receiving a Top Ten award. Jensen was an award winner in Selden.

Correction

The French family, mentioned in the Cheyenne Valley Cemetery article, was from Michigan, not Minnesota, as stated in the article
