

AROUND 65 PEOPLE attended the Yard and Garden Tour by grasses and plants. Behind her is a vine-covered arbor. on Sunday. The photos were taken in the yard of Pete and Right, Emily Elfers checks out the 'old man tree.' Herald staff photo by Karen Krien Kay Jensen. Rachel Huffman looks at the pond surrounded

Former doctor under investigation

By Karen Krien

karenk@nwkansas.com It has been 13 years since a former Cheyenne County doctor was convicted of second-degree murder and attempted murder. Now, Dr. L. Stan Naramore is back in the news again, this time for prescribing large quantities of powerful painkillers to patients.

The 62-year-old doctor had a which showed seven of the patients small practice in Mount Healthy, living in the same trailer park near Ohio. The Cincinnati Enquirer carried a story on Friday which told that away; 16 patients drove more than the Ohio Board of Pharmacy began investigating the doctor after reports had a nine-hour drive, and 29 other from suspicious pharmacists. Dr. patients, a seven-hour drive. Other Naramore's office was raided and patients came from as far as Tennesrecords of 204 patients were seized. see, West Virginia and North Caro-The Enquirer obtained a patient list lina.

Auxier, Ky., a small town four hours four hours round trip; eight patients

In the article, Dr. Naramore was said to be prescribing large doses of methadone, Oxycontin and other powerful painkillers. He said he was 'simply trying to relieve the pain of hundreds of patients."

He said his office is now closed, probably permanently, after he had open-heart surgery last week. However, he told The Enquirer that he American should suffer pain, he said.

was cooperating with the investigation and considers it "unethical" for a doctor to allow a patient to remain in pain.

He went on to say that the and his trial in undertreatment of pain is a serious 1994. He was problem in America. Physicians are prosecuted for afraid of persecution and prosecution trying to kill for adequately treating pain. No Ruth Leach, a

1994 trial Many people still remember Dr. Naramore

See DOCTOR on Page 9A

Harvest is here; better yields this year

By Karen Krien

Holly Keller - Cheyenne County Young Miss

Sainty girl named 2008 Young Miss

By Karen Krien

karenk@nwkansas.com took home the title of 2008 Chey- was Colleen Shrader and third was enne County Young Miss at Aryn Sturgeon, both of Bird City. Saturday's program. She was one Kattie Ford, St. Francis, was voted as of nine girls performing.

Held in the school auditorium in St. Francis, the first runner up was Dara St. Francis girl, Holly Keller, Loyd, St. Francis; second runner up karenk@nwkansas.com Hot, dry winds have helped bring the wheat crop to harvest. It has been a touch-and-go season with cool temps late in the spring, rain in much of the county, lightning, a little hail and a tornado. But, when the combines rolled into the fields, farmers found that yields, for the most part, were much better than the last six or seven years of drought conditions.

Ken Bracelin, Bracelin Brothers Harvesting, brought in the first load of wheat to the St. Francis Equity. The wheat was cut on land south of St. Francis belonging to Craig Schoenrogge. Tim Burr, Equity manager, said he expected to see the harvest in full swing this week

Dale Weeks, Wheeler Equity, said farmers are reporting some good 50- to 70-bushel yields with 60- to 64-pound test weights.

"There is still some wet wheat out there but the custom cutters should be in the area by mid-tolatter part of the week — about the time most fields are ready to go," he said.

WHEAT FIELD DAY, held south of Wheeler, had a good attendance, despite the hot weather. Jim Shroyer, crop production specialist, was one of the speakers talking about the different varieties. As he stood in the field, it was obvious that harvest was just around the corner.

Winners reported in harvest contest

By Karen

Krien The Harvest Countdown contest, sponsored by five businesses and The Saint

Francis Herald, ended with the first load of wheat in the county being brought to St. Francis Equity on Wednesday, June 20, at 9:04 a.m. Bill Bracelin, Bracelin Brothers

Lampe

Harvesting, had cut the wheat on the Craig Schoenrogge field south of St. Francis. Tim Burr, Equity manager, said the test weight was 58.9 pounds See MISS on Page 9A and had 12.4-percent moisture.

That same day, Iva Krien at the Wheeler Equity called to say Harvey Neitzel had brought in a load. Mr. Neitzel brought in the first load in 2006 on June 14, a week earlier than this year.

To qualify for the first load, the wheat must have 14 percent

See WINNERS on Page 9A

$1,000 shopping spree ends July 21

By Karen Krien

karenk@nwkansas.com St. Francis businesses are get- the drawing. But a ting ready for the Christmas A July celebration is to be held Saturday, July 21. To add a little fun, "Christmas In July" will be the jingle of $1,000 scrip shopping spree which will be awarded to drawn, will be given the opporthe lucky winner.

'There has been a great deal of excitement as people register in the seven St. Francis businesses," said Casey McCormick, Herald advertising manager. "We are let a member of The Herald staff busy keeping plenty of registration forms available.

Merchants have not officially announced activities for the Saturday of large crowd is expected for the drawing.

The winner. when his/her name is tunity to spend their $1,000 scrip in any one or all of the participating businesses. The money has to be spent by Monday, July 23, at 5 p.m. and they have to agree to follow them around and take photos during their shopping

See SPREE on Page 9A