

Senior center celebrates 30 years

On Sunday, the St. Francis Senior Center celebrated 30 years in existence. There was music, lots of cookies, punch and coffee and, best of all, many people spent time looking through the old photo albums. At the top, Barb Ewing showed the older people how to dance; (counterclockwise) Bessie Burr, Margaret Holzwarth, Jessie Shield and Dorothy Orth look through the scrap books; deep in discussion were (l to r) Van Burrus, Rachael Keller, one of the first coordinators; and Art Krueger; Aletha Goodell and Maruice Blume leave from the center; the Swinging Seniors entertained; visiting and having a good time were (l to r) Clarence Iliff, Melvin Schlepp, ErvaGene DeAragon and Louise Gipe; Ken Quigley was taking photos to fill the next album.

Herald staff photo by Karen Krien