

Cheylin kindergarteners write letters to Santa

There is nothing more endearing, or entertaining, than to read those "Dear Santa" letters from children.

So get a cup of coffee, sit quietly and get prepared to be tickled with the letters to Santa from Cheylin's kindergarten class, written by their teacher Sharon Hendricks. Dear Santa, Please bring...

Dear Santa,
Please bring a play kitchen, Ratatouille movie, a camera, and books. I will leave you some chocolate chip cookies and pop. I live on the highway by Bird City. Be safe and be careful and don't mix up the toys! I'm trying to be a good girl! I have a brother who may be crying or sleeping when you come.

Love,
Kaylynn Hendricks

Dear Santa,
Please bring some style colors for my hair, some clothes for my doll, a real little rabbit and a real dog. I will leave you some chocolate chip cookies. Please wake me up when you come in. Also, I want a diary, a rocking chair, a baby crib, and a computer.

Love,
Emilia Veleta

Dear Santa,
Please bring a wrestling game for my play station, some jeans, a remote control race car, and some superman shirts. I will leave some cookies and coffee. Please put my presents under our Christmas tree.

Love,
Luis Reynoso

Dear Santa,
Please bring a Barbie house. Please put my presents under our Christmas tree. Bring presents for my two brothers and two sisters. I will leave some food out for you and your reindeer. Also please bring a big toy house.

Love,
Guienevere Burr

Dear Santa,
Please bring a power ranger helmet, a transformer optimus-prime, a transformer bumble bee that talks, and a star-screen jet blaster. Please leave my presents under our tree. I also want a transformer computer and a transformer dirt bike.

Love,
Jayden Boyson

Dear Santa,
Please bring a princess computer, princess shoes, and a princess castle. I will leave you some pepperoni pizza. Please bring a princess bicycle for my baby sister. I will be sleeping when you come.

Love,
Kimberly Velasquez

SANTA Connor Keller, was telling about the night before Christmas. In the St. Francis Grade School Christmas program, Santa rode on his faithful pony (Lane Hoffman and Austin White).
