Haigler 4-H Club

The first Haigler Community 4-H meeting of 2008 was called to order by president, Alicia Crouse at 4:10 p.m. on Sunday, Feb. 24. Jared Crouse led the Pledge of Allegiance and Angela Crouse led the 4-H Pledge. Minutes from the last meeting as well as the treasurer's report were not available.

First order of business was to nominate and elect officers. Alicia Crouse is the president; Cassie Starks is the vice president; Meg Peterson is the secretary/treasurer; Angela Crouse is the news reporter and Austin Titus is the activity director.

Everyone was reminded that enrollment forms are due March 3 in the extension office by 4 p.m. There is also a CWF meeting March 16 in Benkelman. The CWF trip is June 1-15.

New dates for the Dundy County Fair will be July 30 - August 2 (Wednesday - Saturday). The possibility of a livestock auction as a new event at this year's fair was also mentioned.

If your child is 5 to 7 years old, he or she may participate in a new 4-H program called Clover Kids.

The annual Easter Egg Hunt will be held at the Haigler Park on Saturday, March 22, at 2 p.m. All kids 10 years of age and younger are welcome to participate. The 4-H members need to provide two dozen eggs per person or three dozen per family and arrive at the Haigler Park at 1 p.m. to hide the eggs.

Plans are to have the next Haigler Community 4-H meeting on April 13 at 4 p.m. and have the highway cleanup day after the meeting. If the weather is not nice, they will postpone the meeting until the 27th. Petersons will bring sloppy joe meat and dessert; the Crouse family will bring chips; the Starks family will bring sloppy joe buns; and the Woods family will bring drinks.

Austin Titus motioned to adjourn the meeting. Seth Woods seconded the motion. After the meeting, members enjoyed cookies and Gatorade provided by the Crouses.

Saturday Night in Haigler

The winner of the "Saturday Night in Haigler" contest on The Haigler Blog is Dallas Adams. Here is his submission. (The first prize was having their story submitted to the local newspaper.)

"When I was a lot younger and more resilient at about age 13 - 14, I stayed home this one Saturday night due to not feeling well.

As you know, my friends were in town with devious minds at planning and hatching mischievous plans. The plan was to go to the Sackett's house and steal watermelons. This happened on a full moon night and the stars were shining brightly. Several candidates were a part of this ensemble.

Talent followed these grown men (the adults) as they were dignitaries and guests at the Sackett house. They were lying in wait... amongst the soap weeds and the watermelon patch. Shotguns were brandished and the barrels of the shotguns should have glistened in the moonlight. Waiting... Waiting... and waiting, there were chortles underbreath, with occasional levity amongst them.

The younger paraded up the back pasture way, seeking to get closer to the hilltop where the Sackett house was located. As they got closer and closer, the men stood up and fired with the shotguns. Kaboom! Kaboom! and Kaboom! As the youngsters turned and ran away, there was another Kaboom. Excited and running - full of emotions, they ran through barbed wire fences with pandemonium and ultimate paranoia being present.

The adults chortled with glee and levity carried through the night still air. Hah, Hah, Hah! The youngsters were frightened for their lives, and I was not even there physically, but by proxy, I was there. Whew!!! What is the plan now???

Yes, Saturday Night in Haigler, there were not many dull moments held by anyone!"
