WATER

Continued from Page 1A

Payment landowners receive is based on the historic amount of water a farm has consumed, the irrigation area's proximity to a stream and the price the landowner wants, Frost said.

"The state wants to buy water rights at the most affordable price," he added.

Frost said low bids are not the only element that the commission would consider when it decides who gets grants. For example, he said, a person who wants to retire a well that is near a stream would be given preference over a person who wants to sell a well that is located far away from a stream, even if that person will accept less money.

"We want to evaluate all the variables and decide what gives us the best bang for our buck, "Frost

There is only so much money, he added, and some people who want to retire their rights will not be able

He said the people who retire their water rights would be able to practice dryland farming. Some might sell only part of their rights, not all, and continue some irriga-

The project will last five years. The fall sign-up period will go through Nov. 15. If money is still available. the commission will have a spring sign-up period Feb. 15 through March 31.

For information, contact Frost at (785) 296-8964 or the Groundwater Management District in Colby at (785) 462-3915.

FIREMAN DAN BLAIR helped Cotter Neitzel try on the fireman's hat. The ABC Preschool children visited the firehouse on Tuesday. When asked what to do when your clothes are on fire, one little girl practically said, 'take them off.'

Herald staff photo by Karen Krien

Junior high volleyball teams win

By Betty Jean Winston

betty.w@nwkansas.com team were successful in volleyball action on Monday evening. Results of the B-team match will be published next week. The A-team defeated Colby by scores of 13-25, 25-14 and 25-18 while the Cteam won by scores of 25-14 and

The junior high teams are now preparing for the Northwest Kan- win. sas League tournament which will do the wooly bear caterpillars say about the coming winter?' and

'What about the squirrels and the Humans have always looked for signs and portents of what the weather will be like in the coming season, said Knapp, who as the state climatologist for Kansas.

She runs the Kansas Weather Data

Library, based at Kansas State

nuts they bury?" she said.

gist Mary Knapp.

University.

Critters play role

in weather tales

A change in seasons always case," Ms. Knapp said. "While we

"In the fall, people ask, 'What band, it's just as likely to be harsh.

"Folklore has it that when the Extension Web site: http://www.

brown band on the wooly bear is oznet.ksu.edu/wdl or contact the wide, the winter will be mild. But, Chevenne County Extension Of-research shows this just isn't the fice at 785-332-3171

they hatched."

A-team will play at Hoxie and the very exciting to win at home and The junior high A-team and C- B-team will hold their tournament have a win for the final match of in Oberlin.

A-team 13-25. 25-14. 25-18

"In the first set we started out sluggish and I was afraid we weren't going to get it together," Coach Tina Elliott said. "But we came alive in the second and third sets and we came up with the

"The girls worked well together

wooly bears have a wide brown

That is because the caterpillars reflect what's happening right now in fall or what happened when

As for the other old "reliable"

- if the squirrels are burying a lot of nuts this year, that's because they're benefiting from a really

Information about the Kansas

Weather Data Library is available on the K-State Research and good crop of nuts, she said.

be held on Thursday, Oct. 23. The and hustled for the ball. It was the season before tournament."

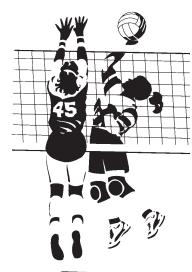

> Having good serves were Jandy Dunn 13, Ally Northrup 12, Laura Brunk 8, Krissy Harris 7, Clarice Neitzel 5, Aubrey Mills 3.

C-team 25-14, 25-17

Eleven players had at least one good serve in the C-team match.

"This was a C-team match and we didn't have enough for a Cteam so the first set we played B-team and second set we played

"They did a good job and came up with a win."

Having good serves were Brunk Neitzel 3, Bailey Merklin 3, Tay-10, Sarah Whitmore 5, Nariah lor Archibald 3, Mills 2, Dunn 2, Hamilton 4, Randee Grover 4, Northrup 1, Katie Lambert 1.

Cheyenne County Hospital Guild

The Cheyenne County Hospital Guild met on Oct. 6 at the Senior Center with 18 members present. Carol Gamblin gave an informative report about the 911 pro-

The president, Helen Burnham, conducted the business meeting. Secretary and treasurer reports were give. There was a discussion about ways to give the Guild's support to the hospital. More suggestions will be taken at next month's meeting.

The meeting adjourned. The hostesses were Betty Louden and Anita Miller. The next meeting will be on Nov. 3 with Dr. Allard presenting the program. The hostesses will be Eileen Nolan and Sherry Schultz.

BUSINESS CARD DIRECTORY

To list your business drop us a card! Call 785-332-3162 today.

At "Tax Time"

Lane Hatcher "Over 20 Years Experience"

> Tax Accountant Saint Francis, Ks.

Phone/fax: 785-332-3232

lanechatcher@gmail.com

Bison Rx compounding & Therapy Customized James E. Hampton, RPh, PCCA Member prescriptions for patients with 416 State Street, Suite A unique medical Atwood, Kansas 67730 situations (785) 626-3237 requiring (800) 696-3214 unique medical Bison Rxcompounding@atwoodtv.net solutions.

Western Kansas Center for Comprehensive Dental Diagnosis & Rehabilitation 1690 W. 4th • Colby, KS

460-3999 or toll free 1-866-305-3999

Jeffrey M. Rayl, D.D.S.

Comprehensive bite analysis TMJ/TMD diagnosis and rehabilitation I.V. Sedation for all dental procedures including surgical removal of wisdom teeth Dental Implants: surgical placement and restoration

- Complete endodontic services (root canal)
- Extensive cosmetic procedures • Laser periodontal (gum disease) therapy • Esthetic crown and bridge restorations; all ceramic (no metal) • General dental procedures: cleanings,
 - tooth colored fillings, partial dentures biologic dentures

Holiday program set for Oct. 28 program sponsored by Hospice whelmed. Services, Inc. to help make the holidays a little less stressful. The program is open to the public, free of charge. It will take place from 1-785-462-6710. 7 to 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 28, at the St. Francis Methodist Church. es, Inc. is to provide care for the them. The extra expectations that are part of the holiday whirl often ing the number listed above. leave one with intensified emo-

"Hope for the Holidays" is a tions of grief and feeling over-

For more information, call Hospice Services, Inc. main office in Phillipsburg at 1-800-315-5122 or

The mission of Hospice Servic-When someone is grieving a dying and bereavement support to loved one they are not sure what communities. More information the holidays will hold in store for about the bereavement services offered may be obtained by call-

- Plain Sense —

Economic Stress and the Elderly

There are a lot of reports emerg- is also the dependency that many ing in recent months on the topic of economic stress as a result of the rising cost of fuel, groceries, and many other items and services. Finances are a major source of stress for many Americans, and when groceries become expenand jobs are also cut back, family stress increases for everyone.

Not only do parents worry about taking care of their children, but many are also concerned about their own parents who are aging and elderly. More and more adult children worry about what the future holds for their aging parents and feel responsible for their well-being. As life expectancy increases and people live longer, there will be a need for additional health care including medications, appropriate housing, and eventually long-term care. Many adult children worry that the assets and pensions of their elderly relatives will not be sufficient for them to remain independent for as long as they are able. This on-going concern can eventually impact their own physical and emotional health, especially when they do not recognize and take steps to reduce the resulting stress.

Experts who research and study aging and elderly issues in the United Kingdom have labeled this worry about what the future holds as Elderly Parent Responsibility Stress Syndrome (EPRSS). Along aging parents have on their adult children, and their need for reassurance and active participation of their children on everything from a simple purchase to major investment choices. Adults with this syndrome are described as sive, fuel is the highest price ever, feeling very responsible for their elderly relatives, worrying about their loved one's health and general well-being, and feeling guilty if they do not see or keep in touch with their relative as much as they think they should. In addition, they often find it difficult to talk with their parents or relatives about these issues.

Suggestions for dealing with this kind of stress include taking control of the situation by talking with parents; making plans for the future in regards to finances, living arrangements, health care, etc; discussing wills and funeral arrangements; letting go of the guilt; and seeking professional advice when needed.

Contributed by Karen Schueler, MS, LCPC, Manager, PEO - Prevention, Education and Outreach

The views expressed here are those of the individual writer and should not be considered a replacement for seeking professional help.

Mail questions to: High Plains Mental Health Center, Plain Sense, Prevention, Education, and Outreach Department (PEO), 208

1750 1750 219 Paid Distribution by Other Classes of Mail Through the USPS (e.g. First-Class Mail®) 1233 1191 on (Sum of 15b (1), (2), (3), and (4)) 1195 1237 Copies not Distributed (See Instructions to Publishers #4 (page #3)) h. Total (Sum of 15f and a) Publication not required in the Oct. 16, 2008 issue of this publication

Oct. 14, 2008 I certify that all information furnished on this form is true and complete. I understand that anyone who furnishes false or misleading information on th form or who omits material or information requested on the form may be subject to criminal sanctions (including fines and imprisonment) and/or civil

10/14/08 7:49:34 PM

17. Signature and Title of Editor, Publisher, Business

front42.indd 2