

Preschoolers tell what they want for Christmas

St. Francis

The ABC Preschool children in St. Francis were asked "What is a cranberry?" "Where does Santa take a vacation?" and "What they wanted for Christmas?"

Jayce Landers said a cranberry was something to eat and Santa takes his vacation up in the clouds. For Christmas, he would like Bob the Builder, a Christmas book and a Jack in the Box.

Molly Gilliland said a cranberry was like a blueberry and that Santa takes his vacation at the North Pole. She wants ponies and Barbies for Christmas.

Jesslyn Houtman said a cranberry is something to eat and Santa takes his vacation at her house. She would like a Barbie computer for Christmas.

Ben Busse said a cranberry was like a blueberry and Santa takes his vacation at the North Pole. For Christmas, he would like an electric guitar.

Preston Witzel said a cranberry tasted like a blueberry and Santa goes to the North Pole for his vacation. He would like a race car track.

Sidney Allard said a cranberry is pink and Santa takes his vacation at the North Pole. For Christmas, she would like a real baby.

Addy Christensen said cranberries taste good and Santa goes to the North Pole for his vacation. She would like toys, Barbies and more Barbies for Christmas.

Jordan Smull said cranberries come from a garden and Santa takes his vacation at the North Pole. For Christmas, he would like a motorcycle, gator and "my own Play Dough."

Gracie Lambert said a cranberry is like a blueberry and Santa takes his vacations at Walmart. She wishes for her mom and dad to have a happy Christmas.

Hadleigh Hilt said a cranberry is like a grape and Santa vacations at Grandma's house. She wishes for bunches of snow at Christmas.

Eli Mills said a cranberry is a fruit and it is sour. Santa takes his vacation at his house. For Christmas, he wishes for a Rockstar Guitar and aqua dots.

Amanda Neitzel said a cranberry is a berry and Santa takes his vacations at Disney World. For Christmas, she would like a make-up table — "Yep, definitely a make-up table — did you get that?! — A make-up table."

Mckenna Poling said a cranberry is a berry and she believes Santa vacations at her grandma's house. She would like a guitar for Christmas.

Kaden Lee said a cranberry is candy and Santa surely vacations at the beach. For Christmas, Kaden also wishes to be vacationing at the beach.

Jordyn Faulkender said a cranberry is a type of berry. She said Santa vacations in tree mountains and she wishes for Mommy to be happy.

Shannon Semler said a cranberry is an apple and Santa vacations when it is winter time. Shannon wishes for good food.

Caleb Todd said a cranberry is an apple and Santa vacations at home. He wishes everyone a merry Christmas.

Mia Morrow said a cranberry is a kind of food and that Santa takes his vacation at the North Pole. For Christmas, she would like one-blade ice skates.

Bailey Workman said a cranberry is not something she has ever seen! She thinks that Santa vacations at a pond and wishes for kisses from Buck, her horse.

Cutter Neitzel said a cranberry is like a cheesy cracker. On his vacation, Santa, he thinks, goes to Disneyland. For Christmas, he wants race tracks and monster trucks.

Ellee Krien said a cranberry is pink and orange and that Santa takes his vacation in his shop. For Christmas, she wants dollies.

Brayden Kaup said, "I'll bet a cranberry is like a strawberry." He thinks Santa takes his vacations at houses. He wants a gumball machine, piano, drums and a guitar for Christmas.

Cheylin

What goes on in a preschooler's mind? Darci Kehlback's preschool students had some interesting and funny ideas about the following questions, "What is a cranberry?" "Where does Santa take a vacation?" and wrote a letter to Santa.

Cranberries are berries that you eat. Santa takes vacation at the North Pole cause when Dad takes vacation he comes home. For Christmas, I want a little trampoline, a dragon that when you push his head or wings down they will come up, and a police car.

Love, Mitchell Howard

It's a berry.
At home in his chair.
When you drop off presents, I want a Dallas

Cowboy's (star on helmet) football outfit. I live in the country. I tried to be good. Sorry for fighting with my brother.

Love, Dylan Ketzner

A cranberry is a blueberry. Santa goes to people's homes for vacations. I want Hungry Hippos for Christmas. Me and Grandma made you purple cookies. I am a good girl.

Love, Grace Wright

A cranberry is something you play with. Santa vacations in the snow. I want a real football helmet with a real chin thing. I want to have a drum, too, with real drum sticks. Thank you Santa!

Love, John Serrano
