Board questions gas bill

By Linda Schneider dublinls@hotmail.com

The February Cheyenne County Fair Board meeting opened with the treasurer's report and questions

Gary Cooper, secretary, reported the Midwest Energy bill for November through December was $714. Clay Zimbelman, board member, asked why it was so high. Jared Douthit, board member, reported there had been three rentals during about the gas bill.

Mr. Cooper reported there is $25,100 in the board account and the grandstand payment, $9,200 is due. The board agreed to approve the report and pay the grandstand

4-H club trophies

Joe Leibbrandt, extension agent, presented the board with a request to change trophies. He said at a recent 4-H Council meeting, it had been discussed that trophies have been the same for awhile and it was suggested they be replaced with plaques. He noted the board had been more than generous with purchasing yearly trophies.

Nick Ketzner, board member, mentioned banners as trophies. Mr. Ketzner had been to a recent show with banners as awards and they were beautiful. Mr. Douthit suggested jackets, belt buckle, or even chairs as awards and Megan Downy brought up maybe some useful item such as a bucket or horse tack. There was some discussion how to get more local spon-

Changes in derby rules

Reporting for the Derby Committee was Mr. Zimbelman. He said the committee has updated the rules and in Goodland, everyone read them and liked them. However, the rules must have approval by the Kiwanis organization during their next meeting.

Mr. Zimbelman reported the changes were so the building of the cars would be simple enough to build in a garage. One change would be that any bumper could be sion followed concerning types of bumpers that could be used.

In the welded class, Mr. Zimbelman said there was only one driver who still had a car. In addition, the other drivers said they wanted to go back to hobo derby. Motion carried to take out the welded class in the derby.

He asked that the prize money of the hobo derby be increased to a $1,500 purse. Furthermore, he asked for a $500 Mad Dog purse, a clean aggressive drive not just driving in circles. The board agreed to the increased prize winnings.

There was discussion on the changes in the derby rules, and it was decided to wait for a copy of the rules before making any decisions. A special meeting is needed to approve the rules; it needs to be done quickly, Mr. Bursch said. He mentioned he had been receiving requests for the derby rules.

In addition, unless there is something major that would stop the resolution, it will go through.

The commissioners made several requirements when renting the exhibit building. One change would be if alcohol is sold, the damage and cleaning deposit must increase. Mr. Bursch said $1,000 was suggested, but he thought it Francis.

"I showed our rental contract to Kari (Gilliland) and she said it covered damages well enough," said Mr. Bursch.

The commissioner's second requirement wanted the fair board to have a rental cost figure for nonprofit and a different rental cost figure for commercial. A lengthy discussion followed. They said the main problem was the gray area of who is non-profit and who is not.

There was more discussion concerning liquor licenses to sell alcohol. Motion carried seven to one to charge $500 cash deposit to non-profit or profit organizations with proof of liquor license to sell alcohol, and the previous rental agreement with non-alcoholic renters stay the same.

The third requirement was for the board to appoint only one person who would be responsible get-The lawnmower and 4-wheeler ting the contract signed and pick up the money at the same time before the key is given out, preferably someone who lives in St. Francis. Mr. Bursch said he had spoken to Karol Lohman, board member, and

Miscellaneous items

Other items discussed by the board included:

- The trespassing signs are up. • The island in the exhibit building will stay.
- Tabled was the matter of board members riding in the parade.
- A motioned carried to lay a watwo hydrants.
- Christy Wurm will be given a Mr. Bursch presented the com- key for the food booth, which is the photo of the Equity Creamery building being town down in the Feb. 5 issue of The Saint Francis

Old Creamery remembered

'We enjoyed the picture and article about the creamery building being torn down," Mr. Shoemaker said. "I graduated from high school in 1944 and, if I remember correctly, my brother, Gus, and I took eggs and cream to 'Adams Produce' during our high school days. It was located about a block east of the building that is now being torn down.

"I wonder what year Mr. Adams closed his creamery. One thing that I remember — he always paid paper money for the $5 and $10 but give out silver dollars for the $1 bills.'

Donna Carmichael Armstrong, Edson, remembers having a job in the creamery candling eggs.

"It was a stinky job," she said, noting that she was happy when she no longer had that job. She thought Herb Lampe and Dale Kelly were working in the bookkeeping department at that time and Lewis Collins was the manager of the Equity Grocery Store. Don Holliman, Bird City, remembers his family selling eggs to Adams Produce. He thought there was a creamery in the business. Morris Hatchery, which would have been south of Ross Manufacturing's new office, was also in the egg and cream business.

There were evidently two Equity creamery: Equity Union Creamery and Office along with the St. Francis Equity Exchange office, creamery and independent. Both offices had the same telephone number: 272 (the days when only

Team walking program begins

On March 8, the Walk Kansas program begins. It ends May 2.

Walk Kansas is a team-based program that will help people lead a healthier life by being more active, making better nutrition choices, and learning positive ways to deal with

How does Walk Kansas work?

Co-workers, family members, friends and neighbors form teams of six people who will track minutes of physical activity during the 8-week challenge.

The physical activity goal for each team member is 2.5 hours (150 minutes) a week of activity, which is equal to 10 Walk Kansas miles.

Walking isn't the only activity that counts. Participants will find a list of activities in the "Be Active Your Way" handout.

Increased activity and better nutrition can postpone or reverse type 2 diabetes, and reduce risk factors for cardiovascular disease, some cancers, and other diseases stemming from obesity. Other benefits of a healthy lifestyle include more energy, better sleep, improved coordination, increased muscle strength and flexibility, a more positive attitude, and a boost in brain power.
