

St. Francis Singers performed during the Diamond Jubilee Celebration.

ONCE AGAIN BAND played. Those playing (l to r) were Crissy Cooks, Beth Maifeld, Louanne Isernhagen, Tim Trumbo and Carol Ross.

COURTHOUSE STEPS are being put in. Head contractor Cary Stupka, driving the large lift moving the slabs of limestone, left, and his crew have been working whether it is hot or cold in order to get the steps in as quickly as possible. The laying of the stone is a tedious job and pillars have been installed to make sure the stones will stay in place.

importance of Sawhill Park and the band shell restoration to this community.

The Music Club Jubilee Committee, Louanne Isernhagen, chairman, organized the program.

Throughout the afternoon, the sounds of Cheyenne County talent filled the air. Some of the audience sat under umbrellas in the amphitheater, others relaxed on benches under shade trees. Glenn Isernhagen, master of ceremonies, kept things moving along as violin, flute, guitar, lilt-ing harmonies, drum rhythms, lively dancing, poetry and piano melodies entertained those attending.

Under a bright yellow canopy near the fountain, members of Methodist Youth Fellowship and Luther League served lemonade and iced tea, while Christian Youth Fellowship members scooped homemade ice cream. A 4-H representative helped sell home-baked goodies.

After the music ended, the smell of the barbecue grill lured party-goers to the Shrine Pavilion across the street where members of the Lions Club served hot hamburger meals.

The project to restore and preserve the band shell, said Mrs. Carman, is now underway thanks to the generous support of all who donated time, talent, baked goods, energy and money.

Donations are still needed and accepted. They can be brought to Saintry Stitches or mailed to Band Shell Restoration, PO Box 753, St. Francis, KS 67756.

"If you have not yet purchased your luminaria, they will be for sale at the park," said Mrs. Brace-lin. "Just look for the table with Keely Loyd.

"See you all there!"

People are urged to stop by the west window of the United Methodist Thrift Store and look at the auction items, including the two quilts. One of the quilts was made by local quilters and someone will be the lucky winner of the quilt.

Inclement weather
In case of inclement weather, the barbecue, survivor, caregiver and team walks, along with the auction, entertainment and luminaria service will be moved to the high school.
