U.S. Census Count Day is Thursday

All homes in Cheyenne County should have received the 2010 U.S. Census form, and people are asked to fill them out and mail the form back in the self stamped envelope by Count Day on Thursday, April 1.

The goal for St. Francis, Bird City and Cheyenne County is to raise the return percentage this census to the 85 to 90 percent range. Cheyenne County was about average across the state in the 2000 census returning 69 percent of the census forms.

Every 10 years — as required by the U.S. Constitution (Article 1, Section 2) — every American household receives a form to be filled out and returned to help count everyone in the city, county, state and nation.

The constitutional reason for counting everyone every 10 years is to determine the boundaries and number of Congressional representatives for each state. Kansas has four Congressmen, and it is important to get a good count to be sure the state keeps that number of representatives.

A "Be Counted" and questionnaire assistance site has been opened at the St. Francis Public Library at 121 N. Scott.

Pat Leibbrandt, librarian, said the Census worker will be at the library from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., on Mondays and Tuesdays, and Wednesdays from noon to 2:30 p.m.

Cheyenne County Commissioner, Andy Beikman said he knows the census numbers are important for the county in looking to the future. He said having as high a census count as possible will help the county when applying for state and federal money.

Robert M. Groves, director of the U.S. Census Bureau, said he has received questions about people who get their mail at a Post Office box, and have not received a form.

"The U.S. Census doesn't send census forms to Post Office boxes," he said, "so it's actually normal for people not to receive a form at their P.O. box. The census is all about counting people where they live and sleep, so we must tie each form to a physical location. Postal boxes are not tied to specific housing units, so we can't use them to send the forms to specific housing units."

Most of the Census forms in Cheyenne County were delivered to the homes by census workers. Those who have received and

County health fair runs April 12 through 16

Twice a year, the Cheyenne County Hospital, clinic and health department sponsor a health fair. The spring health fair has been set from Monday to Friday, April 12 through 16. During these days, there will be blood draws, male and female exams

The health fair is an excellent way to offer screenings for some health problems like diabetes and high blood pressure, said Mila Bandel, county health nurse. By catching them early, it can reduce the risk for costly complications.

The lab draws will be offered for three mornings in St. Francis (April 12, 13 and 14) from 7 to 10 a.m. in the basement of the Cheyenne County Clinic in St. Francis and one morning in Bird City (Tuesday, April 13) from 7 to 10 a.m. at the Bird City Clinic. No appointments are needed for the lab draws.

Remember to not eat or drink except water after midnight the night before the lab draw. Those having the lab draws can take their morning prescription medications with sips of water prior to the draws.

There will also be male and female exams available for the health fair on April 14, 15, and 16 in the St. Francis Clinic as well as the Bird City Clinic.

Appointment for exams are a must and can be made by calling 785-332-2682. The female exams will offer breast and pelvic exams, pap smears; the male exam will include a prostate check. The fees for the labs and exams are at a reduced price and will not be charged to your insurance.

Exhibit booth fair

There will be an exhibit booth fair with health and safety information available from 6 to 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, April 15, at the St. Francis Grade School gymnasium. This is a come-and-go fair for participants to walk through the exhibits.

Free medical testing

Free medical testing will be available in the following areas: blood pressure, pulse, oxygen, glucose /blood sugar, vision, body mass index score just to name a few. There will also be numerous organizations on hand to visit with people regarding health and safety for them and their family. This event is free of charge to attend.

Preventing or delaying the onset of chronic health problems like diabetes, heart disease and stroke can produce significant savings for any insured employee group or individual. Regular physical activity helps people temporarily or in some cases, permanently, prevent having diabetes if they also lose 7 percent of their body weight.

In addition, regular physical activity helps people manage their diabetes, high blood pressure and cholesterol better, thereby reducing their short and long term health care costs. People who walk at least 30 minutes, five days a week, lower their stress, and risks for heart disease, stroke, hospitalizations, osteoporosis, fractures, depression, gall bladder disease, Alzheimer's Disease, and many other conditions, thereby lowering health care costs.

Fireman retires after 20 years

By Karen Krien

Dale Weeks recently retired from the St. Francis Fire Department.

Mr. Weeks had been a fireman for 20 years and said if he was 20 years younger, he would do it again! It's a good organization to be affiliated with, he said.

"Being a fireman has been self-rewarding because of the people we were able to help," he said. "I'll miss the people, but I won't miss the long, cold nights."

Now, he said, it is time to let the younger guys step up and do the job.

When he started, he said he had good teachers including Gordon Ross, Larry Brunow, Gary Rogers and Terry Touslee. Through the years, he has taken different classes and trainings and, the job, he said has become more demanding.

Claim lost, forgotten cash on Tuesday

Kansas State Treasurer Dennis McKinney's office is currently safeguarding over $200 million worth of unclaimed property for their rightful owners or their heirs.

As a part of the treasurer's "Unclaimed Property Returns" tour, Mr. McKinney and staff members will be traveling throughout the area talking about and searching for Kansans unclaimed property. They will be in St. Francis at the Cheyenne County Courthouse at 212 Washington Street in the commissioners room from 4 to 5 p.m. on Tuesday.

"We encourage everyone in the area to stop by and check their name and the names of family and friends," Mr. McKinney said "In this economy everyone could use a little help and we feel it's important to be sure that these resources get back to the rightful owners. The Unclaimed Property Returns tour is a wonderful opportunity for us to connect Kansans with cash and property currently being held by our office."

Unclaimed property includes inactive savings and checking accounts, uncashed checks, stock shares and bonds, dividend checks, insurance proceeds, mineral royalties, and utility deposits.

In addition to cash, stocks and bonds, safe deposit boxes are also turned over to the State Treasurer's office on an annual basis. There are currently over 15,718 safe deposit box properties on file. Approximately 600 new boxes are turned over to the treasurer's office each year.

"It is my job to reunite Kansans with their unclaimed financial assets," McKinney explained. "Reaching out to people in their hometowns is a great way to give back to Kansans what is rightfully theirs."

Making a claim is free and easy. There are no fees involved in searching for or claiming cash and property. To search, a last name is required and a first name is recommended.

Kansans who can't make it to the county courthouse on Tuesday may call the State Treasurer's office at 1-800-432-0386 or log onto www.kansascash.com to search for unclaimed property.

Six students earn I ratings

Six soloists came home from the 1-2-3-4A Regional Music Festival with I ratings and have qualified to go to State Music Festival.

The festival was held in Oberlin on Saturday. Earning I ratings were Logan Whitmore-trumpet; Sarah Whitmore-Flute; and Alyssa Lee, Brandon Keeker, Tilyn Bell and Jacquelyn Ketzner, all having vocal solos.

Other soloists and ensembles performing at festival were Robbie Herman, vocal solo; Christina Schoenrogge, vocal solo; the flute trio (Sarah Whitmore, Taylor Archibald and Jodie Hilt); the saxophone trio (Mikaela Grace, Trista Orth and Laura Brunk), the percussion ensemble (Isaac Schiltz, Logan Whitmore, Ross Nicklos, Gavin Cooper, Sam Reed, Ty Zwegardt and Brock Zwegardt); the girls vocal ensemble (Alyssa Lee, Taylor Archibald, Elena Paulsen, Mikaela Grace, Shayla Hilt, Jacquelyn Ketzner and Jodie Hilt); and the mixed vocal ensemble (Tilyn Bell, Hayley Brown, Trista Orth, Laura Brunk, Sarah Whitmore, Chauntell Peter, Caitlin Northrup, Christina Schoenrogge, Christina Hilt, Trevor Reed, Brandon Keeker, Brandon McGinnis and Kaleb Zwick).

The 2A State Music Festival is scheduled for Saturday, April 24, in Concordia. The four-week interval between regional and state gives the students time to implement the suggestions for improvement that were made by the judges on Saturday.

"I was pleased with the performances given by these students," said Debbie Fiala, band and vocal instructor. "They spent many hours practicing at school with me, as well as putting in time individually at home on their solos. The soloists continuing on to state should do extremely well."

Contest planned

Last year, 10 people participated in the Bird City Biggest Loser Challenge. Jan Busse, Bird City, won the title and grand prize of $200 after losing over 20 pounds! This year, the challenge has expanded to include all of Cheyenne County.

The Cheyenne County Biggest Loser Challenge is modeled after the hit television show, The Biggest Loser, in which contestants fight through 12 to 16 weeks of daily grueling workouts.

The challengers will divide into teams and each team will work together toward the ultimate goal... losing the unwanted pounds by learning basic techniques to continue healthier living.

While the contestants in the Cheyenne County Biggest Loser Challenge do not have to endure quite the same level of intensity as the television contestants, they will benefit from the comradely and accountability that comes with getting healthy with their peers.

In an effort to help motivate and reward teams for reaching weight-loss goals, Cheyenne County Biggest Loser will be offering prizes to the teams with the greatest percentage of loss at each weigh-in.

The prizes are an important part of recognizing the level of commitment and hard work the participants have shown - not only to their teammates but to themselves.

Three local business are sponsors: Bird City Diner, Nancy Semler, Scentsy representative, and Portraits by Darci.

The challenge begins at Van Doren Park, Bird City this Friday and registration starts at 5:30 p.m.

Everyone interested in participating in the Cheyenne County Biggest Loser Challenge contact Ambrosier 785-734-7105 for more information.

Twenty years ago, firemen were called to fires with the sound of the whistle blowing. They were called only to put out fires. Today, firemen also help with traffic control at accidents, bring the Jaws, and are required to take Haz-mat training.

The community support, he said, has always been good. When we needed a paging system, we got it, when our equipment needed replaced, they made sure it was good equipment, and when it was decided to build the emergency building on the highway, the community was behind us.

"I think they saw we were not afraid to go out and work for it," he said.

Mr. Weeks was one of the builders on the emergency building, seeing it go from start to finish. A carpenter as well as a city council member, he put in many hours to see that it was finished.

When we were building it, Mr. Weeks said, there were firemen from other communities stopping by to see what we were doing. They were impressed with the knowledge and skills of the many volunteers doing the work. Today, it holds the emergency equipment for St. Francis and Cheyenne County as well as the offers for the emergency manager and emergency medical service director.

There have been many fires in the last 20 years but the most memorable fire was during the fair one year. The firemen were called to a grassfire started by lightning at about 2 in the morning. The fire, he said, went out easily and the remainder of the water was used in a water fight among the firemen.

One of the most damaging fires was when Ron Zimbelman's house burned. The firemen were helping carry furniture out as well as fighting the fire.

"They were appreciative of what we did and later held a barbecue for us," Mr. Weeks said.

The most dangerous fire he helped with was the fire which started north of St. Francis and quickly moved 4 miles in the 50-mile-per-hour wind.

When we had grassfires, he said, we were fortunate to have farmers who brought their tractors and disks and water tanks to help.

Now that Mr. Weeks is retired, he and his wife, Sherry, plan to spend more time with the grandkids. He has one grandson who has been calling, wondering when they are going to do some fishing. I just want to be able to enjoy the kids and fishing while I'm still young enough to do it!

mailed the forms back are helping to make the count as accurate as possible, Mr. Groves said.

He said if a person feels like they not being counted, they can go to a Be Counted site to get a form.

"In any case," he said, "we will visit these households in person starting May 1, to make absolutely sure they're counted."

The census representative for western Kansas, Lech A. Wisniewski, said census workers will knock on the doors of houses where forms have not been returned several times in an attempt to collect the information. He said the effort will begin in May and continue until July.

What is Meningitis?

Meningitis is an infection of the coverings around the brain and spinal cord. The infection occurs most often in children, teens and young adults. Also at risk are older adults and people who have long-term health problems, such as a weakened immune system.

The main kinds of meningitis:

Viral meningitis is fairly common. It usually does not cause serious illness. In severe cases, it can cause prolonged fever and seizures.

Bacterial meningitis is not as common but is very serious. It needs to be treated right away to prevent brain damage and death.

The two kinds of meningitis share the same symptoms. It's very important to see a medical provider if you have symptoms, so he or she can find out which type you have.

What causes meningitis? Viral meningitis is caused by viruses. Bacterial meningitis is caused by bacteria. Meningitis can also be caused by other organisms and some medicines, but this is rare. Meningitis is contagious. The germs that cause it can be passed from one person to another through coughing and sneezing and close contact.

What are the symptoms? The most common symptoms among teens and young adults are:

- A stiff and painful neck, especially when you try to touch your chin to your chest.

- Fever.
- Headache.
- Vomiting.
- Trouble staying awake.
- Seizures.

Children, older adults and people with other medical problems may have different symptoms:

- Babies may be cranky and refuse to eat. They may have a rash. They may cry when held.

- Young children may act like they have the flu. They may cough or have trouble breathing.

- Older adults and people with other medical problems may have only a slight headache and fever.

It is very important to see a medical provider right away if you or

By Mila
Bandel

County Health Nurse

your child has these symptoms. Only a medical provider can tell whether they are caused by viral or bacterial meningitis. And bacterial meningitis can be deadly if not treated right away.

How is meningitis diagnosed?

Your medical provider will ask questions about your health, do an exam, and use one or more tests. Lumbar puncture is the most important lab test for meningitis. It is also called a spinal tap. A sample of fluid is removed from the spine and tested to see if it contains organisms that cause the illness. Your medical provider may also order other tests, such as blood tests, a CT scan or an MRI.

How is it treated?

Treatment depends on the case. See your medical provider right away if you or your child has symptoms, because bacterial meningitis can be deadly if not treated right away.

Bacterial meningitis is treated in a hospital. You or your child will get antibiotics. And you will be watched carefully to prevent problems such as hearing loss, seizures or brain damage.

The meningitis vaccine is recommended for children and adolescents 11 through 18 years of age and is available in the county health department and clinic. The vaccine is recommended for other people as well:

- College freshman living in dormitories...this is a requirement for most colleges, universities and vo-tech schools for admission into their post-secondary education.

- U.S. Military recruits.

- Anyone traveling to a part of the world where meningococcal disease is common, such as parts of Africa.
