

RELAY

All auction proceeds go toward the final total to help cure cancer and support those in the fight.

The highlight of the evening is the luminaria ceremony. This is held at dark, and is awesome to see the hundreds of lit luminaria around the park. They burn all night to symbolize the struggle of having cancer, the fight to survive and the coming of the dawn and victory.

To purchase luminaria in honor of those loved ones who have survived cancer, or in memory of those who did not, please contact Tammy Grice, 785-332-2910 or Sandy Frisbie of McDonald at 785-538-2419, or any member of the Relay Committee. They can also be purchased at the grounds early in the evening.

For more information or to address question, call Pat Rose, 785-332-5348.

We invite everyone to help us in this great endeavor, said Mrs. Loudon. "Come participate on Aug. 20. The event begins at 7 p.m. in Sawhill Park.

her granddaughter riding on one of the First National Bank golf carts.

"I think everyone had fun!" she said.

Candy and trinkets along with popsicles were thrown to the crowd along the parade route; and Living Waters Church members were passing out iced bottles of water and Kelly Morris, Morris Plumbing, was giving out rolls of toilet tissue.

The over-all grand champion float was The Kelly Family float. Winning the first-place commercial division float was Capstone Counseling, St. Francis. The Matthies-Hilt family won the family division; and Living Water Fellowship Church, Bird City, took the organization division.

Presiding over the parade this year was grand marshal, Norvin Anderson. Officer Anderson has been in the parade for 41 years, many of the parades were led by Officer Anderson in a sheriff's vehicle.

"We were very pleased with the creativity of the entries," Mrs. Lampe said, noting that there were many different takes on the theme, "Cowboy Boots and Country Roots."

"Once again, it was a good time!"

from St. Francis.

The Friday grandstand entertainment drew a big crowd as local entertainment performed. Those entertaining ranged from 8 to 88 years and each act received a round of applause.

On Wednesday, the mutton bustin' and team roping was the grandstand entertainment. The mutton bustin' contest found a number of willing contestants and some hung onto the sheep's wool long enough to get part way across the arena.

The local ropers, in a round-robin order, had some good roping. The local roping was followed by the Gary Grice and Carl Keller Memorial Roping. Contributors added money to the pot, adding to the excitement of the show.

Winners of the local roping contest were Harold George, header, and Lupe Gomez, heeler. Winning second place were

R.L. Walz, header, and Rio McCoy, heeler. Third place went to Sergio Chavira, header, and Ryan McAtee, heeler; and taking fourth place were Eddie Brunk, header, and Nahum Mendoza, heeler. They won a little cash plus a belt buckle from St. Francis Equity.

There were 126 roping teams for the Gary Grice and Carl Keller Memorial Roping. The winning team was a Colorado team, Wade Smith and Tate Kirchenschlager. They took home $1,400 in winnings. The second place team was Tim Furnish and Junior Meyers and they won $1,050. Third place, with $700, was Tim Furnish and Trevor Kirchenschlager; fourth place and $350 was Joel Bunker and Cody Meritt.

There was $1,000 added to the purse by Tom Grice, Mark and Gwen Keller and Shay Realty, sponsors.

Tom Grice presented buckles to the winners and the Gary Grice family (Allison and Tammy Grice), gave embroidered rope bags.

Saturday's parade was long with a number of entries. St. Francis' Main Street was lined with people including lots of children just waiting for candy and other treats to be tossed their way.

The grand champion float went to the Kelly Cousins, St. Francis. First in the organization/church division went to Living Water Fellowship Church in Bird City. In the business division, Capstone Counseling was the winner, and the Matthies and Hilt family took home the first prize in the family division.

The 4-H and open class results along with articles and photos of the events and happenings at the fair will be inserted as the After Fair section in both The Saint Francis Herald and Bird City Times on Aug. 26.

The fair board and Amusement Authority members will be meeting within the next month to start planning next year's Cheyenne County Fair.
