

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Zwegardt

60th anniversary celebrated in Alaska

Victor and Darlene Zwegardt, who were united in marriage on Aug. 27, 1950, took an Alaskan cruise with their family to celebrate 60 years of marriage. Leaving home July 29, they traveled to Denver with daughter and son-in-law Susan and Jerry Pierce, who had earlier traveled to Kansas from their home in El Cajon, Calif.

After spending the night in Denver, they flew to Seattle on June 30, where the four of them met up with 10 other family members from four cities across the country.

While in Seattle, they went to the Space Needle and enjoyed beautiful views of the city after riding the elevator to the top. The next morning, they boarded the Norwegian Star cruise ship for an eight-day excursion through British Columbia, Canada and Alaska's Inside Passage. Ports of call were Ketchikan, Juneau, Skagway and Prince Rupert.

They experienced weather that was mostly sunny and in the 60s and 70s - quite unusual for Southeast Alaska in August. Highlights included a catamaran boat tour of Misty Fjords National Monument; a 1,800-foot tram ride up to Mt. Roberts in Juneau, which offered panoramic views of the city, harbor and surrounding mountains; sailing into Tracy Arm and up to Sawyer Glacier; and a train ride out of Skagway on an historic narrow gauge railroad built in 1898. Both orca and humpback whales were sighted during the trip.

A special dinner celebration was held on the ship one evening to honor not only the Zwegardt's 60th anniversary, but also daughter and son-in-law Cathy and Dan Gleason's 30th anniversary, and grandson, Jeremy Steinbeck, and his wife Kira's fifth anniversary. The family also celebrated granddaughter Chandler Zwegardt's 17th birthday.

Those joining Victor and Darlene on this special vacation were Jerry and Susan Pierce, El Cajon; Don Zwegardt and children, Max, Dylan and Chandler, Sioux Falls, S.D.; Dan and Cathy Gleason, Anchorage, Alaska; Timothy and Jennifer Steinbeck, Dallas, Ga.; and Jeremy and Kira Steinbeck, San Diego.

Correction

• In last week's Herald, under the photo of "Burning off the vapor pressure," it stated that new valves were being installed, bringing the tanks up to regulations. Karol Lohman, Equity manager, said the tanks are meeting regulations and the new regulations do not go into effect until 2011 but the board had decided to have the work done ahead of schedule.

Library summer activities finished

The St. Francis Public Library's program "Make A Splash Read" has concluded for the summer.

"We had 53 children enrolled in our Summer Fun Sessions," Pat Leibbrandt, librarian, said. "Penny Gienger did an excellent job with those sessions and we appreciate her for all the time she spent."

There were 28 enrolled in the reading program. The program was very competitive as many of them read several books. For every 10 books that were read a prize was given. Once a week there was a drawing for a Dairy King treat.

Kyla Hicks was the top reader and she had the privilege of selecting a new book.

The top girl was Audrey Meyers. Tying for top boys were Kobe Tice and Aaron White. They all won a Pizza Hut certificate.

"In addition to prizes in the reading program we also had a drawing for a water bottle," Mrs. Leibbrandt said. "Winners were Seth Mills and Dawson Rose."

"We really had a fun and exciting summer at the library and we wish to congratulate everyone that participated."
