

People find time for cancer relay activities

The summer is coming to an end although, the county fair, the days just seem to fly by as closes and the fall sports practices begin.

It is a busy time but people on Friday were tivities into their schedule.

interest in the event – that there aren't people County does have good doctors to get people to forming teams to walk the night. But, it always works out.

a Relay for Life because there wasn't time and there wasn't anyone to chair it. However, Pat to speak, he decided he better find out if he was Rose felt like if they didn't have the Relay this year, it may never materialize again so she met the challenge head on.

Pat will tell anyone who asks that she couldn't vor! have done it if it were not for others helping. Betty Petersen once again organized the auction and sponsors; Betty Louden and Susie Walz were doing their things along with the Chamber hosting the barbecue and all the others who helped. The weather cooperated, there was entertainment and games and the awesome luminaria ceremony.

The event happens and many don't know that officially, it has until Sept. 22. However, after it is going on until that dreadful diagnosis of "cancer" strikes them or their family. All of a students prepare for school, the swimming pool sudden, there is new meaning to the Relay for Life.

While much of the money does leave the able to find time to work the Relay for Life ac- county to go for research, Pat counters that Cheyenne County doesn't have the facility to Each year, there is talk that there just isn't the find a cure for cancer but, she says, Cheyenne where they need to be to fight the disease.

Norman Morrow, who found out he had can-This year, there was talk about just not having cer through a health fair sponsored by the hospital/clinic, gave the survivor's talk. When asked a survivor. Calling to Hays to talk to his doctor, he was asked, "Are you still living?" When he said yes, the doctor said, then you are a survi-

> Norman said he had found a new appreciation for life. Sometimes, it takes a whammy like cancer to wake us up but, being a part of the Relay for Life is also an eye opener in helping each of us to appreciate life.

> So, when this busy season of school, sports and raking leaves begins, take time to smell the roses before they fade away. -Karen Krien

Hangin' With Marge By Margaret

It isn't what you say, but how you say it margeb@cityofstfrancis.net Dina, my daughter-in-law, was telling me about her experience with calling 911 in Wichita.

children, was at his grandmother's ened for her little boy. The parahouse in Cheney when he fell down and hit his head on a paint can. He cried and cried and Dina decided to start going back to Wichita in case she needed to take him to a doctor.

On the way back he just instantly fell silent. She reached back to tal." tickle his feet and talked to him but he didn't wake up.

She went into panic mode and pulled over at the side of the highway. She called her parents and asked that her dad come immediately and then she called 911.

and blew in his face, got him out of the car and tried her best to get him awake.

When the ambulance got there Porter, the youngest of her three she was pretty shaken and frightmedical started asking her questions. The first one was if they had a doctor. She replied, "Yes, Darrin, my husband, and I doctor at such and such clinic and we both doctor at Wesley Medical Center Hospi-

He then started trying to find a blood pressure. In a short time he looked at her and said, "I can't find his blood pressure, would you like to try." Immediately she is thinking "What, what are you asking me. I am the hysterical mother, you are While waiting for the ambulance the paramedic. She finally said, she took him out of his infant seat "No, I don't know how to do that."

He said, "I thought you told me that you and your husband are both doctors at Wesley Medical Center?

Bucholtz

Dina told me it was then that she realized that she was talking like most of us here do. Usually we say, "Oh, yes I doctor at Wray, or Goodland or here." We don't say I doctor with Dr. whoever.

On the bright side for us out in this area, a doctor would have been waiting at the hospital for us --when they reached the hospital they waited for two and one-half hours for a doctor. By this time, Porter had already had a nap and was running around like normal. No doctor ever showed up so they just took him home.

Across the County

Hello Northwest Kansas! My very active in 4-H. name is Marty Fear. I was recently

I showed cattle and lambs at many county, state and national shows. The Denver Stock Show in January was a show that my family rarely missed showing at and over out the U.S., meet a lot of friends the years it became our family vacation.

Since my showing career has ended, I have managed to stay very active in the 4-H program. I have two older sisters who have kids that are now showing and have been very involved with them.

I have put on many showing and fitting camps to help area youth and have assisted and coached 4-H livestock judging teams. I hope there is some interest in Cheyenne County to have an active livestock judging team next year.

I started my college career at Colby Community College with a livestock judging scholarship. After finishing at Colby, I went to Oklahoma State for the animal science program but also to continue judging.

Being on livestock judging teams has offered me many experiences that I may not have otherwise been terested in livestock and became offered. I was able to travel through next time and most importantly was able to learn.

County Extension Agent

I received my bachelors in animal science from Oklahoma State University and then continued my education at the University of Nebraska and received my master in agricultural education. I had to learn to walk a fine line between being an Oklahoma State fan and still be a Husker, (and now a Wildcat)!

I am looking forward to working with the extension staff and producers here in Cheyenne County and the Sunflower District. I hope that my experience and background in agriculture and the 4-H program can serve as an asset to both the community and the area youth.

If there are any questions or anything I can do to help please do not hesitate to contact me at 785-332-3171 or cfear@ksu.edu. Again, I look forward to meeting everyone here in Northwest Kansas! Till -Marty.

Lines from the Library-

Casey's Comments

scmccormick@nwkansas.com Of seersucker shirts and wingtip shoes.

I've never considered myself a "clothes horse." Casual wear means blue jeans and a golf shirt (or seersucker) and formal is a suit and tie. When the gathering calls for it, I do wear a kilt with the family tartan, too.

-Honor Roll-

New and renewed Herald subscriptions: Jerry Neitzel, Murfreeboro, Tenn.; Nikki Rose, Lenexa; Gail Biggerstaff, Rathdrum, Idaho; Bob Kricke, Denver, Colo.; Pete Davies, St. Francis; Janine Thomason, Moreno Valley, Calif.; Charlie Nipps, St. Francis; William Rabas, Russell; City of St. Francis, St. Francis; Shirley Watson, St. Francis; Keith Dankenbring, St. Francis; Ruth Britton, Mission; David Stephens, Colby; Mildred Burr, St. Francis; Libby Curry, Colby; Donita Baird, Brewster; Jerry Whitmore, St. Francis; Matt Whitmore, Lawrence;

My dad taught me how to tie a half Windsor knot when I was a boy. I still remember him standing behind me as we both faced the mirror during the lessons.

Dad was a businessman and he always over dressed for work. But back in those days that's what men did. He had several pairs of wingtip shoes that I got to polish at a quarter a shoe.

As well as a suit and tie, he also wore Old Spice aftershave.

Seems like the things that worked for Dad still work for me.

This is a good arrangement since, living in a small, rural town, things don't seem to change as fast as they do in the big cities. It's been said that living in Northwest Kansas is like going back 50 years in time. It is a very good thing.

So I can walk down the street to the local thrift store, pick a suit off the rack and wear it to a formal occasion and look completely normal. Or as normal as a Scot-Irish newsman can.

Dad would have liked it here.

Love is patient, love is kind... Love does not delight in evil but rejoices with the truth. It always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perserveres. Love never fails.... I Corinthians 13:4-8 ANALANA NA NANANANANA

A Century of Service to Cheyenne County

P.O. Box 1050, St. Francis, Kan. 67756-1050

Published each Thursday by Haynes Publishing Co., 310 W. Washington, St. Francis, Kan. 67756-1050. Entered as periodicals matter at the post office at St. Francis, Kan. 67756-1050, and at additional offices.

Official newspaper of Cheyenne County. Member of the Kansas Press Association, National Newspaper Association, Colorado Press Association and Inland Press Association.

Subscriptions: One year $38 (tax included) in Cheyenne and adjacent counties; $42 (tax included) elsewhere in Kansas; $48 elsewhere in the U.S. Foreign subscriptions, $28 extra per year (except APO/ FPO). POSTMASTER: Sendchangeof address to Box 1050, St. Francis, Kan. 67756-1050

Nor'West Newspapers

8:30 a.m.- noon - 1:00-5:00 p.m. Monday - Friday (785) 332-3162 Fax-(785) 332-3001 E-mail - sf.herald@nwkansas.com

STAFF

Karen Krien Editor/Publisher Betty Winston Sports Editor Casey McCormick Advertising Manager Lezlie McCormick Production Stacy KaupOffice Manager Margaret Bucholtz ······Columnist

۲

By Pat Leibbrandt

hired by the KSU Extension Service

as the livestock extension agent in the Sunflower District for Cheyenne County. I plan to do a weekly news column and this is the first one! I will do my best to cover timely topics, upcoming event and news from Kansas State. So for this week, I would like to take this opportunity to introduce myself and tell you a little about my background (if you

I grew up in west central Nebraska; close to Sutherland, on a farm and ranch. My family raises commercial cows and feeds about 1,000 head of calves. We grow mainly corn, have a few soybeans and put

Our farm is located in a valley between the North and South Platte rivers so we are able to utilize the rivers for irrigation The Sand Hills are directly to the north and south

Growing up, I was more interested in the livestock part of things and took an active role with the cattle. I have always been in-have not already heard).

up alfalfa and hay.

of us.

The following new books have arrived at the library: Ice Cold by Tess Gerritsen; Private by James Patterson; Family Ties by Danielle Steel; Take Four by Karen Kingsbury; Sizzling Sixteen by Janet Evanovich; The Search by Nora Roberts; It All Began In Monte Carlo by Elizabeth Adler; People Of The Longhouse by Michael and Kathleen Gear; Shadow Zone by Iris Johansen; Think Twice by Lisa Scottoline; Blessings by Kim Vogel Sawyer; Beginnings by Kim Vobel Sawyer; Bygones by Kim Vogel Sawyer; A Cousin's Prayer by Wanda Brunstetter; A Cousin's Challenge by Wanda Brunstetter; Kelly's Chance by Wanda Brunstetter; One True Love by Lori Copeland; Fields Of Grace by Kim Vogel Sawyer; Waiting For Summer's Return by Kim Vogel Sawyer; When The Heart Cries by Cindy Woodsmall; Southern Living Christmas Cookbook by Rebecca Brennan; and The 7-Minute Rotator Cuff Solution by Joseph Horrigan; Hot Word For The Sat 1 by Murray Bromberg; 1,000 Dollars And An Idea by Sam Wyly.

The library has the following new books in the children's department: Soccer Song by Patricia Giff; Snow Surprise by Lisa Ernst; Dot And Bob by David McPhail; by Carole

Roberts; The Van by Holly Keller; My Best Nest by Ree Dellinger; Classroom Chaos by Sue Bentley; Farm Dog Martha by Anna Jane Hays; Spring Surprises by Anna Jan Hays; Muddy Paws by Sue Bentley; Smarty Sara by Anna Jane Hays; Arthur's Reading Trick by Marc Brown; Please Write Back by J.E. Morris; Curious George And The Pizza Party by H.A. Rey; Silly Milly by Wendy Lewison; Ten Grouchy Groundhogs by Kathryn Heling; Katy's New World by Kim Vogel Sawyer; Katy's Debate by Kim Vogel Sawyer; Hot Words For The Sat 1 by Murray Bromberg.

