Hawaiian trip
Lois Zuege recently returned from a lengthy vacation trip to Hawaii. She left Haigler Feb. 3, went to cousin Evelyn Stoner's home in Fort Collins. The next morning Evelyn's daughter Carol took them to Denver International airport. They flew to Los Angeles where they changed planes and flew to Lihue, Kauai, arriving there at 8:20 Hawaii time. Her son, Stanley Dale met them at the plane and took them to their condominium. He had flown over on the 3rd. Lois gives an account of the trip in her own words. Stanley Dale took us on many car trips all around the Island - to the beaches, to a garden. That was quite a trip, the plants and trees were all labeled and told us what they were and whether they were native or introduced to the Island. It was all up hill, so of course then it was all down hill. We went to a farmer's market and bought many delicious fruits and vegetables. We went to the Kilauea Lighthouse, looked out where we could look down into the "Grand Canyon of Kauai".

A friend, Todd, joined us on the 11th, and on the 13th we took a boat trip up the coast end and saw whales, dolphins and had a meal on the boat. It was a wonderful trip. We got drenched, but that was part of the fun. We flew home the 14th and got to Fort Collins at midnight. I spent two nights with grandson, Jeremy, in Firestone, continued toward home the 17th, and visited Dorothy, Dave and Eileen in Brighton and Hazel at Hudson.

Lois Zuege spend some time with Sophia Zuege on Friday afternoon. She had spent Thursday with her sister, Edith Roundtree.

Last Monday Laura Pearl Wall went to Yuma to visit her daughter, Carol Flaming. Carol's grandchildren, Noel and Logan Klein also visited her on Monday.

On Sunday, Floy Fisher went to the auction barn west of Wray to help her daughter, Sharna, and son-in-law, Richard Richardson, unload and set up an estate from Greeley for the next antique auction. It was an interesting job, seeing many old items that Floy could remember and relate to from her childhood.

Sharna Richardson came to Floy Fisher's home in Haigler on Monday to cook together, trying out some new entree recipes.

Storm Prey

By John Sandford

But then things swiftly go bad, once of the workers dies, and the robbers hustle out to their truck-and find themselves for just one second face-to-face with a blond woman who's driven into
