

128th Year, Number 18

Bank offers to buy bank in Bird City

By Cynthia Haynes

c.haynes@nwkansas.com The Bank of Oberlin has made an offer and is asking for state and federal authorization to buy three branches of First National Bank of Goodland.

The Bank hopes to acquire the Colby, Bird City and Quinter branches of First National and has placed legal notices in The Oberlin Herald, Colby Free Press, Goodland-Star News, Bird City Times and the Gove County Advocate in Quinter as part of the purchase process. Publication was to begin today.

The Bank President Gary Walter said that the first step in the purchase was to reach an agreement with First National to buy the assets and liabilities of the three branches.

The second, he said, is to get permission from the state Banking Commissioner and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which insures both banks.

The third step, required by law, is to publish a notice in the local Colby, Bird City and Quinter – and two home offices - Oberlin and Goodland - of the affected banks for four weeks.

During and after the publication period, people have a chance to comment on the sale and say if they have some problem with it,

If everything goes right and there are no huge problems during the comment period, the state and federal agencies will either OK the application or ask for additional information.

Mr. Walter said he couldn't say how long the process will take but estimated 60 to 90 days if all goes

"It's completely dependent on approval of the regulators," he said. "I'm hoping for the end of

It would be good for both banks, he noted, if the sale could go through by the end of June because banks have to put out a call report, or statement of condition, each quarter and that would be the end of June.

First National has branches in Goodland, Colby, Oberlin, St. newspapers of the three branches Francis, Bird City, Quinter and Kirk, Colo.

See BANK on Page 7

AVERY JENKINS was spinning her wheels in her bright, kins, were spending some time with her grandparents, red Mustang. She and her parents, Gabe and Ashley Jen- Steve and Connie Jenkins.

Sainty car show set for May 12 around Sawhill Park, downtown St. Francis, and some of the adjoining streets will be lined with classic vehicles. This is the 12th year for the Saturday In The Park Car and Bike

Not only will there be lots of vintage vehicles but there will be many vendors. Nancy Schultz, one of the coordinators, reported there will be shirts and baked goods along with from other towns. other food vendors.

day and one of their money-making ward and paid for the dash plaques Colo. There has also been a par-cruisers.com

On Saturday, May 12, the streets endeavors to help support the cen- and trophies for the show.

In 2000, a few local people who had a love for the classic vehicles decided to see if there was any interest in organizing a club

"We picked a Saturday for a get together and 33 vehicles came to of the organizers.

All of the vehicles were local still came to the show. beople selling jewelry, candles, T- except for two that owners brought

In 2001, the first Saturday In The Breakfast will be served by the Park Car Show was held. With a town to sell their goods. Entries 332-2317, or Robert Klie, 332senior citizens at the center from 7 zero balance in the bank account, come from as far away as Cedar 2417. People can also check out the a.m. to 1 p.m. This is their pancake three club members stepped for- Bluffs, Neb., and Rocky Ford, web site at www.cheyennecounty-

Each year, the show has grown and people from far and near travel to see the vehicles and motorcycles.

The show is held rain or shine. Through the years, there have been 10 years of good weather. One year, it was cold and drizzled rain all the show," said Scott Schultz, one day and the other year, it just plain

The show has become a community event. Vendors come to Mr. Schultz at 332-3960, or Kent the park and other locations in Kechter, 332-2629, or Pete Jensen, ticipant from Collierville, Tenn. "We always receive positive comments from the people who come to St. Francis," Scott Schultz, coordinator, said. "They talk about how clean the town is and how beautiful the park is. They also enjoy the friendly people who live here."

Everyone is urged to mark their rained all day. However, 67 vehicles calendar for May 12 and plan to spend the day at the park.

For more information, contact

Bed and breakfast business opens

By Karen Krien

karen.k@nwkansas.com

Almost 7 years ago, Carl and Kate Jenkins bought the big twostory house on 110 E. Spencer in St. Francis. The first of May, they opened it up as a bed and break-

Kate said they purchased the house because they have four sons with families (12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild).

'We love it when they come to visit," she said, "but with their busy lives, that isn't as often as we would like, so we decided to invest some time and money to make the rooms available to those who enjoy the bed and breakfast experience.

Carl and Kate had traveled throughout the United States and had spent a number of nights in bed and breakfast establishments. They know what makes a good bed and breakfast.

Now, they have this big, beautiful house. Kate has a passion for decorating and Carl enjoys construction - "A marriage made in heaven," she said.

"Whatever I can think up, Carl can make it happen," she said.

Married almost 40 years, Kate said they have always made a good team in whatever we have

'We love our old house and enjoy entertaining and sharing it with others," Kate said.

In the time we have been here, she said, we are aware that the house is happiest when it is full of happy people and that's the way we like it best, too.

Carl did all the re-wiring and put in all new plumbing.

"It was a laborious job and very

SETTING THE TABLE - Kate Jenkins, above, and her husband, Carl, are ready to open their new bed and breakfast business, The Spencer House. The dining room table is set with china and crystal waiting for the first breakfast to be served. Herald staff photo by Karen Krien time consuming," Kate said, "but with yard work and finishing projworth the effort.'

The most difficult thing in getting the bed and breakfast up and running, Kate said, was working non-stop for months on end to meet the deadline while having other jobs. For Kate, it was the clutter, dust and chaos!

Carl, she said, is to be commended – he just kept plodding along making it happen. We were so thankful for our sons that came down over a weekend and helped

A brand new bathroom was created from the space that originally was a second staircase to the upstairs. They were able to open up the new bathroom to The Boudior room, but, when the Boudior is not rented and the other two are, they can open both bathrooms so both rented rooms have their own

That, Carl said, was challenging. There is a 3-foot crawl space between the kitchen ceiling and the bathroom floor. He used the crawl space to install the plumbing and electricity.

The bed and breakfast has three spacious rooms including "The Summerset," "The Garden View" and "The Boudoir."

The Summerset is decorated with earth-tone colors and cherrywood furnishings. It features a fireplace, a queen-sized four-poster bed and a table with two chairs

See BUSINESS on Page 7

'READY TO ROCK' will be presented by the advanced music class on Sunday and Monday. Tilyn Bell, left, and Christina Schoenrogge practice a number. In the background, Jacquelyn Ketzner plays the drums. Herald staff photo by Nathan Fiala

Music and buffet held

Sunday and Tuesday The St. Francis Community of all rock done with our own live High School Advanced Music Class is "ready to rock" at their performances of "Almost Famous" on Sunday and Tuesday.

gins at 7 p.m. A variety of classic and contemporary rock music will be on the program, including "R.O.C.K. in the USA," "Jessie's Girl," "A Tribute to Michael Jackson," "My Immortal," "Perfect," "Paradise," and many more.

Show time on Sunday is 3 p.m., and the Tuesday performance be-

"This is the first concert of this type we've ever done – 90 minutes band," said Debbie Fiala, director. "I have a class this year with the ability and desire to put together a performance of these dimensions. We hope to have a 'standing room only' audience to enjoy their considerable talents." Tickets will be available at the door or they can be purchased prior to the performances. Contact Marilyn Raile in the high school office or Debbie Fiala (785-332-2306) for advance tickets. The ticket price includes a dessert buffet at intermission prepared by the Culinary Arts Class.