Kick off time for the 61st Antique Engine and Thresher Association Show is fast approaching. Lots of new additions were talked about in last week's issue of the Bird City Times. Plan on attending to see all these new additions and enjoy all the good food that is being planned.

Plans are all set for Wednesday's kick off at 6:30 p.m., with the Community Potluck dinner in the dining hall at the Thresher grounds. This is a "meet and greet" dinner for all volunteers, out of town visitors, and Cheyenne County residents. It's a time for local residents to get acquainted with those that have traveled from near and far places to attend the Thresher Show. Lots of food will be available, so don't let it keep you away if you are unable to bring anything to share.

The opening ceremony of Folleh Tamba's, "A Grunt's War Diary," an art installation housed in the new Calvert Evin's Memorial at 500 S. Benton (old Assembly of God church building), St. Francis, will be held Thursday, July 3, at 7 p.m., for the public to attend. Interactive art pieces, video and audio compiled by the Purple Heart recipient fills the old church building for the viewer to experience the feeling of combat.

The installation communicates first hand documentation of the combat in Iraq and Afghanistan, as seen through the eyes of a Sergeant in the United States Marine Corps.

Folleh Tamba joined the Marines out of gratitude and respect. The Marines helped his family find refuge in Liberia during a dangerous civil war. He and his family returned to the United States and escaped the refugee camp when he was a teenager. Once he graduated college, he enlisted in the Corps.

Tamba was deployed multiple times to Iraq and Afghanistan over an 8 year period. With a degree in the fine arts, he used his education to collect video, audio and stills, documenting his time deployed. He also filled his diary with poetry and prose during the war.

The installation consists of interactive video, audio, sculpture, poetry, and prose that Tamba collected and created during his many deployments. The artist will be available during the opening to provide insight into his specific experience in war, and how art has helped him during the transition to civilian life.

His cowboy coffee will give you the energy you need for the rest of the day to attend all the events, watch the runners and walkers come into the finish line for the 6th Annual Fun Run, or walk around and see all the antique engine and toy displays.
