

Judges have good comments on clothing

By Karen Krien

The judges of the 4-H clothing construction and fashion revue had nothing but good comments while judging the items on Monday.

"The judges say they love to come to Cheyenne County but it is difficult to select a winner," said Susan Knodel, 4-H coordinator.

At the Style Revue on Monday evening, it was quite evident why Cheyenne County 4-H'ers are known for their outstanding fashion revue projects. Master of ceremonies Abby Burr and Crystal Murray announced the participants and gave a brief description of their outfits. Cheyenne County Junior Miss Jennifer Weems handed out the trophies, ribbons and bouquets.

Winners of the Clothing Construction division (how the garment was made) were: Andrea Knodel, senior champion; Samantha Marin, senior reserve champion; Katlyn Jones, junior reserve champion; and Heidi Yonkey, junior reserve champion.

Winners of the Fashion Revue division were:

Life skill judging was held earlier in the day. Top placers in this event were: Jody Gienger, senior high points; and Sydney Busse, junior high points.

Others participating in the Style Revue were: Alyson Marin, Kaitlin Marin, Megan Ford, Travis Havel, Scott Ford, Brooks Hobrock, Chance Hobrock, Caitlin Northrup, Kaycee Williams, Courtney Douthit, Amy

Investor meetings have good attendance

By Karen Krien

In past weeks, Western Plains Energy has been holding a number of ethanol meetings with one being held recently in Bird City. The board has been pleased that the investor meetings were well attended with over 500 attending in northwest Kansas and eastern Colorado.

The attendance has shown interests with construction on a plant site in Campus to begin in the fall.

Because of the interest, three additional evening meetings have been scheduled. At 7 p.m. on Aug. 5, there will be a meeting at the Plaza Inn in Garden City; at 7 p.m. on Aug. 6, a meeting will be held in the Holiday Inn, Great Bend; and finally, at 7 p.m. on Aug. 7, the last meeting in this area will be held at the Comfort Inn City Limits, Colby.

"We have had several requests for additional evening meetings for those who had problems attending our day meetings," said Jeff Torluemke, chief executive officer for Western Plains Energy.

The board of managers also plans to hold meetings in Salina, Topeka, Kansas City and Wichita the week of Aug. 12.

Each investor meeting will feature an in-depth description of the plant's proposed location, a description of the plant's design and a discussion of the risks of investing. The presentation will also include information regarding the plant's design and builder, the plant's distiller's grain marketers, and the plant's ethanol marketers. At the conclusion of the presentation, a question-and-answer session will be held.

Attending a meeting does not commit the individual to invest. However, attendees will have an opportunity to invest after the discussion. The meetings are designed to inform potential investors of the opportunities and risks associated with investing in the proposed ethanol plant.

Investments will only be accepted in accordance with the terms of a written prospectus that will be distributed at the meeting.

For more information, call Mr. Torluemke at 785754-2119.

Sale starts at 5:45

By Karen Krien

The Cheyenne County Fair Premium Sale will start at 5:45 p.m. on Friday in the small show arena located on the fairgrounds. There will be something for all bidders to purchase a premium including livestock to crafts and woodworking to baked items, just to name a few.

FFA programs will each be allowed to sell one item in the premium sale. This is the ninth year for this type of sale where community members are encouraged to come out and support the local youth.

Donating their auctioneering services to conduct the sale will be Rodney Shay and Royce Rambat.
