Party attracts visitors

By Karen Krien

It was a beautiful late summer day for the Garden Party held Sunday. Sponsored by the St. Francis Area Chamber of Commerce, there were seven gardens and yards listed on the tour agenda and three drive-by yards which were worth looking at.

Paige Gardner, Chamber secretary, reported that people were purchasing tickets much of the afternoon. The tour started at the city park where tickets were sold by Secretary Gardner and Renee Braun, Chamber board member. Later, people could stop by the park and have iced tea and cookies.

People on the tour found fountains, roses and other flowers, a variety of grasses, vegetables and even a butterfly garden. Some of the tourist had come to enjoy the beautiful gardens while others were picking up ideas for gardens at their homes. Gardens and yards toured were those of Ron and Marsha Zimbelman, Ron and Bonnie Zweygardt, Elmer and Dorothy Kellner, Ward and Gloria Cassidy, Warren and Pat Cook, Larry and Terri Finley, and Pete and Kay Jensen. Drive-by yards to look at were at the homes of Lisa Holzwarth, John and Elaine Kite and the St. Francis rock sign on U.S. 36.

Groups remember Sept. 11

By Karen Krien

Sept. 11 was a day of remembrance all of this nation as people thought back to a year ago when terrorists attack the World Trade Center in New York, and the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. The plane destined to destroy the White House was stopped by concerned passengers who realized what was going on and overcame the crew. It was a day of sadness and fright and thousands of people died and terrorists had actually struck the United States.

On Sept. 11, there were groups and individuals throughout the nation who stopped to bow their heads and remember those who had lost their lives. In St. Francis where were also moments of silence and services. A group of people organized a service at the grade school that evening. There were talks, prayers and songs including that of Greg Jones, acting chief of police, Atwood, who, in his kilt, played Amazing Grace on the bagpipes. The service ended with a touching candlelight service.

The Good Samaritan Village also had a service of remembrance. Residents and staff gave the service which consisted of singing, poems and prayers. Henry Shirmer gave an account of what it was like to be in the war. At the end of the service, the Pledge of Allegiance was said and there was a moment of silence.

Norton publishers sell Daily Telegram to Haynes Publishing

Norton Daily Telegram to Steve and Cynthia Haynes of Oberlin, co-owners of Nor'West Newspapers and Haynes Publishing Co.

The firm operates five northwest Kansas newspapers, The Oberlin Herald, The Saint Francis Herald and the Bird City Times, all weekly publications, and the daily Colby Free Press and The Goodland Daily News.

The sale was effective Sunday.

"Mary Beth and I sincerely thank our employees, our advertisers, our subscribers, our many news sources and everyone else in Norton and surrounding communities for assisting us in publishing the Norton Daily Telegram for the past 32 years," said Dick Boyd. "The support of all you fine people has made it almost like one big family for us.

"We will cherish forever the many memories from our mutual experiences in recording the history of this outstanding community.

"We know that you will continue to support the Telegram and the new owners, Steve and Cynthia Haynes, who have a long, successful history of owning and operating newspapers in Kansas and Colorado."

The Hayneses, both native Kansans and University of Kansas graduates, moved to Oberlin

After 32 years as publishers, Dick and Mary in 1993 to take over the Oberlin, St. Francis and Beth Boyd today announced the sale of the Bird City papers. They had been co-owners of a group of eight newspapers in Colorado, starting out as publishers in 1980. Before that, Mr. Haynes worked for The Kansas City Times, and Mrs. Haynes was a drug store manager in Kansas City.

> The couple bought the Goodland and Colby papers in 1997, and Mr. Haynes has been acting publisher of The Goodland Daily the last three years. Mrs. Haynes is chief financial officer for the group, publisher of the Oberlin paper and also is a relief pharmacist for area stores. She filled in at the former Stapleton Drug store in Norton before it closed.

> Mr. Haynes currently is a regional director for the National Newspaper Association, representing Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska on the board. He is a former president of the Kansas and Colorado press associations, and a licensed lay reader and chalice bearer in the Episcopal Church. Mrs. Haynes has been a member of the contest committee for the state and national press associations and is a former director of the Colorado Pharmacists Society.

"We are proud to have the Norton Telegram as a member of the Nor' West Newspapers family," said Mr. Haynes. "It has a long and illus-See SELLS on Page 10A
