

Approval given for work on city hall

By Sandy Barnhart

The St. Francis City Council approved additional stucco work on the exterior of the city hall when they met on June 3.

At the May 20 meeting the council had asked that Councilman Roger Jensen talk to Roger Goltl of McCook concerning an estimate to stucco work around the remainder of the building. He reported that the estimate is $21,540 to complete the stucco work and would include patching cracks and repair work. This will alleviate water seeping into the building and possibly ruining the remodeling inside. The soonest Mr. Goltl would be able to begin work would be in 30 days. The council approved to replace the six windows at the back of the building for an approximate price of $2,700 and also approved to pay Mr. Goltl $8,500 for the work completed on the front of the building.

Recycling center

Councilman Jensen reported on the recycling center.

He said the final draft of the interlocal agreement between the four counties had been corrected and was ready for each county attorney to approve. After the approval, the agreement will be sent to the Secretary of State for his signature.

Councilman Jensen noted that there was approximately $7,500 leftover from the grant that Gove, Thomas and Cheyenne counties had received. The money will be split between the three counties and the amount Cheyenne County receives will help with the cost of the concrete, electrical or forklift previously purchase for the recycling center. The amount each county will receive is undetermined right now and will need the Kansas Department of Health and Environment's approval.

Property clean-up

Superintendent J.R. Landenberger reported on the progress of the property cleanup. There are five different pieces of property which the city has requested cleaned up and three of the owners have contacted the city and made attempts. Although he noted that none of the cleanups had been completed. The next meeting the council will review the properties as the deadline for the cleanup will have elapsed.

He also said 16 notices to cut weeds had been sent out with 12 having been completed and four still pending.

Superintendent report

• Superintendent Landenberger informed the council two of the crew were spending a considerable amount of time attending waste water school in order to obtain their certifications. The situation had put the crew two men short half the time. He also noted that flushing the sewer mains out was completed, but they would remain open for possibly a year yet. A lot of the sewer main was buried beneath the pavement and difficult to dig out whereas the city plans on raising the holes to street level.

Councilman Jensen noted that these were

Fly-in set for weekend; many planes, balloons expected for event

The 21st Stearman Fly-In will be held Saturday and Sunday at the Cheyenne County Airport in St. Francis. This free event features Stearman aircraft, a World War II vintage open cockpit, and fabric-covered biplanes powered by radial engines.

Hot air balloons launch at sunrise on both days, wind permitting. Skydiving demonstrations and Stearman flights take place throughout the day. The Fly-In ends Sunday after lunch.

Stearman rides and tandem skydives will be available to the public. A tandem skydive allows a novice passenger to share a parachute jump with an experienced skydiver. In addition, there may be helicopter rides available this year.

Breakfast and lunch will be served both days on the airport grounds.

"Scores of pilots annually fly in to enjoy the spectacle, arriving in all manner of aircraft including warbirds and experimental aircrafts," said Robert Grace, coordinator of the Fly-In.

At 8 p.m. on Saturday, Amelia Earhart (impersonated by Ann Birney), will perform in the band shell at Sawhill Park. This is a Chamber-sponsor event and is no charge. (See related article for more information.)

There is no admission to the Fly-In and seating is available. It is fun just to come and watch the aircrafts coming and going, and

Amelia Earhart presents program

Amelia Earhart (Ann Birney) will be entertaining the audience in the band shell in Sawhill Park, in conjunction with the Stearman Fly-In this Saturday. This unique entertainment, provided by the St. Francis Area Chamber of Commerce, will start at 8 p.m. and is free to the public.

It is April of 1937. Ms. Earhart has torn up her Lockheed Electra in a ground loop trying to take off from Luke Air Field on Honolulu. But, she assures the audience, as soon as the plane is ready, she will take off again on what she hopes will be her last record-setting flight — this time, heading east instead of west but asks that no one tell the press about the change of direction!

The audience will hear firsthand about her harrowing solo flight across the Atlantic — and her plans to fly around the world at the equator.

Ms. Birney has delighted audiences of all ages with her energetic portrayal of Amelia Earhart in one of her portrayals of "Ride Into History." Each performance is tailored to the audience. For instance, hear how William Allen White's only advice to her, delivered through a reporter, was to take a comb into the cockpit and use it before she got out! Ms. Birney has introduced Amelia to audiences ranging from schools to libraries, after which she changes personality to enable the audience to talk about that final flight; to informal elbow rubbing at convention "mixers," staying in character all the while.

"We are hoping that we have a large audience as we hear Ms. Birney's portrayal of Amelia Earhart is great," said Gloria Bracelin, Chamber secretary.

If there is inclement weather, the barbecue and Ms. Birney's program will be moved to the grade school.

the sky-divers coming down. There is something going on all of the time and if there is time, people enjoy walking around the airport grounds and seeing the aircraft up close.

Time to start plans for a float entry

It is about two months until the Cheyenne County Fair Parade — just about the best time to start thinking about building a float for the parade.

The fair parade will be held on Aug. 9. This parade is one of the best in the area and one of the reasons is the floats. Organizations, businesses and families construct floats just for the parade.

This year's fair parade theme is "Change is Good." It will give ample opportunity to have a variety of different floats.

The parade coordinator this year is the St. Francis Chamber of Commerce under the direction of Carla Lampe. The entry forms are ready to be picked up at the First National Bank in St. Francis. She also plans to contact the businesses and organizations in town encouraging them to have a float.

"We (fair parade) need floats and if I or one of the committee does not contact you it doesn't mean we don't want you — We need you and everybody to have a float for the parade," Mrs. Lampe said.

Everyone is urged to get their groups and business staffs together and start planning. And, don't wait until the last minute to enter. If unable to start by the bank, call Mrs. Lampe and she will take care of the rest.

Eight girls vie for title

By Karen Krien

The Cheyenne County Junior Miss program has been set for 7 p.m. on June 28 at the St. Francis Community High School auditorium.

There will be eight seniors from Cheyenne County participating in the program. They are Dana Raile, Hayley Young, Toni Rice, Andrea Carpenter, Cristi Antholz, Christina Zwegardt, Meredith Knodel and Hannah Sowers.

This year's theme is Jungle Fever. The week of practice will start on June 22. It is a grueling week of practicing for physical fitness, talent numbers and interviews. However, there is a lot of fun and camaraderie.

Be sure to mark the 28th on the calendar and plan to attend the program as the girls vie for the title of Cheyenne County Junior Miss.

Board makes decision on arena fees

By Lezlie Hilt

The matter of arena use fees was once again on the Cheyenne County Fair Board agenda Thursday evening.

Shawna Blanka, representing the county barrel racers, asked the board members to waive the fee for the arena. They discussed whether or not the barrel racing association which the women belong to was a for-profit organization. They finally decided the organization came under the heading of "for-profit."

Mrs. Blanka then asked if the members were going to furnish a tractor for working the arena and wanted to know what they could expect for the $125 fee. Since the board does not own a tractor, they told Mrs. Blanka that she would have to furnish the tractor and get the arena ready for the show. Mrs. Blanka also asked about whether or not the gymkhana club would be charged for using the arena and the members said "no."

There is no charge for school, county organizations and kid events. Everyone has to pay a deposit and, as long as everything is left in the same condition, the uncashed checks are returned.

Mrs. Blanka suggested that the board use the money collected from the arena fees to repair and possibly enclose the arena's crows nest.

Fund raiser

The Northwest Kansas Area

Technical College in Goodland will be selling tickets for a chance to win a 1965 Ford Mustang at the Cheyenne County Fair this year. The winner will not be announced until the fair next year. The group will be renting a booth and all proceeds will go the Northwest Kansas Endowment.

Barbecue

Fred Mosley, St. Francis, will be cooking the meat for the barbecue.

Make reservations for alumni reunion

By Karen Krien

In a little over a week, former St. Francis students will begin arriving for the 46th annual alumni reunion.

Set for June 21, the alumni reunion will feature a meal of baked steak and all the trimmings which will be served in the high school cafeteria. New this year will be the music of Kirk Mlinek, class of 1973, and his band "One Fret Away." They will be playing blue grass music during dinner.

Shirley Zwegardt, alumni coordinator, reports that reservations are slow coming in.

"Each year, the reservations are a little slow and people don't seem to really get serious about coming until after the Memorial Day holiday," she said. "Well, Memorial Day has come and gone and there are still less than 200 registered."

The deadline for getting reservations is June 16. This will give time for the food to be ordered and other arrangements made. Reservations may be called in to Ms. Zwegardt at 785-332-2286 or sent to her at Box 317, St. Francis, KS 67756. Those wanting their tickets mailed back to them should enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with their remittance. Otherwise, tickets can be picked up at the high school the afternoon of the alumni.

Most of the honor class chairmen along with other class members have been organizing and

Young and old join to collect food

By Karen Krien

For the third year, young and old have worked together in the program "Join Hands Day" where they join hands in helping others. They will be out canvassing the town for food items and donations for the Food Pantry at 9 a.m. on June 21 at the courthouse in St. Francis. Along with picking up food, those volunteers will also be distributing fliers on recycling updates which were made by the Cheyenne County Development Corporation.

"In today's world, young people and adults have developed different preferences in work, leisure and lifestyles and they just don't get to know each other," Elmer Kellner, coordinator, said. "Join Hands Day gives the youngsters and the adults a chance to work together and know a little about each other."

The Thriven Financial For Lutherans (formerly Aid Association for Lutherans), is sponsoring the food drive and will provide refreshments.

Individuals and groups of organizations in St. Francis will meet at 9 a.m. on June 21 at the west entrance of the courthouse.

Anyone wanting to give food should leave the items on their porch or front steps on the morning of June 21 and they will be picked up. If there are no items, the volunteers will knock on the door to see if the resident has anything to give along with giving out the recycling pamphlet.

Mr. Kellner said that those who are going to be gone or who live in the rural areas and would like to give, can leave their donations at the pot holes mentioned in a recent letter to the editor in a previous Saint Francis Herald. He added that this was not a small project and would take time to complete especially where the city crew was doing the work themselves.

• Superintendent Landenberger reported that Dave Flemming, county supervisor, had informed him that as of Oct. 31, 2003 the county landfill will no longer be taking grass clippings.

The council discussed possible establishing a compost site at the recycling center, but were unsure as what type of equipment would be needed. Councilman Jensen noted that done right the site would not smell and could be an asset to the community. It was noted that the town of Hoisington runs a compost efficiently. Susan Hobrock, Cheyenne County Development coordinator, noted that she would look into whether there were grants being offered for such a site.

Attorney report

Attorney Mike Day informed the council that the Association to Benefit Cheyenne County (ABCC) had contacted him regarding the procedure in obtaining a fireworks display permit. The organization, which replaces the Jaycees, is thinking about using the Cheyenne County Wildlife grounds by the airport. A lot of the spectators would than be able to park at the airport for viewing. Attorney Day felt that the organization would first need to clear the plans with the commissioners and Airport Authority.

Attorney Day asked for direction concerning the variance submitted by Greg and JaNan Cooper to operate a business in a residential area. A variance was submitted at the May 6 meeting with the Cooper's having 60 percent of the required signatures, but the council requires 80 percent in order to obtain the variance. The Cooper's have since acquired a few more signatures and the council directed Clerk Mary Lampe to figure up the list to determine if the Coopers have 80 percent.

Other business

In other business:
• Art Krueger and Rachael Keller were present to ask that the council remember the senior citizens center when planning the budget. The county has budgeted $4,500 for the center and they asked that the city budget $4,000. A budget workshop for the city's budget was held June 10.

• Ilene O'Leary with the St. Francis Housing Authority was present to ask that the city waive taxes of $2,195.11 for the Housing Authority. The last time the taxes were waived for the establishment was in 1998, and only the city's portion was waived. A portion of the tax goes to the schools and the county. The council agreed to waive the city's portion and only the schools and counties portion with their consent.

• Mrs. Hobrock was present to ask that the council release funds of $5,000. The funds were approved in the city's 2003 budget. The council approved. Mrs. Hobrock also updated the council on previous and present projects.

• Councilwoman Natalie Knodel updated the council on the Cheyenne Theater Board meeting. The board was considering the possibly of redoing the floor while replacing the new seats.

• The city received $440 for their share from the Southwest Power Administration (SWPA).

• At the May 20 meeting the council approved the purchase of a 1981 Clark forklift for $2,750.

• The council opened bids for the 1993 Crown Victoria police vehicle. The low bid belonged to Eric Fiala for the amount of $526.

Building permit

Building permit was approved for Troy Hilt, to build on a deck.

Next meeting

The next meeting of the city council will be 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday.

held Saturday evening of the fair. Member Ernie Ketzner reported that he had gotten some bids on meat and, as of meeting time, Saintry Super Foods was the cheapest at $.89 per pound. Mark Mills said that he and Jared Douthit had contacted the Hereford Association about donating certified Hereford beef but did not know if a decision had been made. Mr. Mills should hear from the Hereford Association in a couple of weeks.

Banner

Lacey Reed, board member, said Iva Krien, St. Francis, had talked to her about the banner which hung in the premium sale ring and was once used to take the 4-H's pictures under. However since the rule that the 4-H and FFA symbols could not be used in conjunction with the fair, the banner was removed. Mrs. Krien and Mrs. Lacey would like to make another sign that could be used during the fair.

In other business

• There was a lot of discussion on tinning the livestock buildings and what it would take to get this work done. The members are hoping to get this project done before the fair. The board has set up Tuesdays as work nights but with so few showing up, it is hard to get much work done. Member Wade Krien said that he would start working after the derby in Salida on Saturday and Sunday. Kelly Faylor and Clint Bursch are going to get a group of people to help with this project.

• The Catholic Youth Group had contacted Mr. Krien about picking up the trash after the demo derby for a donation.

• The members voted to hire Dave and Deb Flemming's limo service to pick up Baxter Black at the Goodland airport and drive him to St. Francis for his performance at the fair on Thursday evening.

Saintry Super Foods. Cash donations may be a more convenient way to give to the Food Pantry and this money will be used to purchase perishable food items at the grocery store. Checks can be made out to the Cheyenne County Food Pantry.

Food items are needed but, at this time, the Pantry has plenty of canned green beans.

"We need items like canned fruit, spaghetti sauce, chunky soups, crackers, canned meats such as salmon, tuna, chicken, ham, sloppy joes and canned juices that children will like," Reva Pownell, Food Pantry coordinator.

She also pointed out that items such as pancake mixes and syrup, cereal (hot and cold), along with jellies, jams, peanut butter, hamburger, chicken and tuna helpers, boxed potato mixes, puddings and Jello, canned fruits, condiments such as catsup, mustard and Miracle Whip, flour and sugar. The givers might also consider giving some sugar-free puddings or Jellos.

Don't forget paper goods such as toilet tissues, Kleenex and paper towels as well as laundry supplies

There seems to always a shortage of special needs for babies. Baby food (Steps I and II) and formula (Enfamil and Carnation Good Start) are needed along with infant Tylenol.

Mrs. Pownell reported that the Food Pantry now has a refrigerator and a freezer so perishables can be taken. Those having such items can call Mrs. Pownell and she will pick them up or meet the giver at the courthouse.
